Favor of Lizzie Borden.

THE PRISONER IS LIKELY TO BE HELD.

Position of the State and Defense in the Famous Case.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 1.—Today the for holding Lizzie A. Borden for the grand

The defense rested its case at 3:30 yesterday afternoon after testimony which i generally admitted to have been strongly favorable to the case of the prisoner at the

It is probable that the addresses will be by no means short, for the evidence is long and leaves much room for theorizing and the drawing of inferences. It is circumstantial, and is damaging or shadowy, according to the standpoint from which it is regarded. It is the general belief that the prisoner will be held.

The evidence pro and con is in. The argument alone is to come. With today the first legal stage of the greatest case in the criminal annals of New England ends. In many ways it is as full of mystery now as it was when Fall River stood aghast at the full announcement of its horrors twenty-seven days ago. Position of the State.

The defense is not bound to prove the prisoner innocent, and yet the position of the state is: "If she didn't do it, tell us who did?" That is not easy, but it is easy to show the size of the task which the state has assumed in arresting Lizzie Borlen. It can be done in concise sentences What facts are there which are beyond dispute?

First, that the murder was wilful and Second, that Mr. Borden, who alone named in the complaint, was killed between 10:45 and 11:55. Third, that on Aug. 4 there were five people in the house—Morse, Bridget, Liz-zie, Mr. and Mrs. Borden.

Fourth, that it was not suicide and that they did not kill each other. Two are dead and Morse has proved an alibi; that leaves Lizzie and Bridget alone as the persons with an opportunity. Look at It.

Here's the house. Across Second street is Mrs. Bowen at the window. On the south is Mrs. Kelly; on the east Miss Collet and the Frenchman sawing Crow's yard; on the north is Mrs. Churchill. That guards the house from the control of the cont all sides, the state alleges, and it therefore alleges that no one could get into the house or even approach it or the yard That is the state's position.

Theory of the Defense.

But Mrs. Kelly went out at 10:29. Mrs. Bowen says the blinds were down and she couldn't see, and that she wasn't looking Collet sat on the Chagnon piazza, back to Double Murder Said to Have Been and with which he continued connected until the Borden fence and yard, and did not command a view of them. The French-

But Bridget is washing the windows and there is only Lizzie left in the house. What's against her? Blood on the hatchet? Professor Wood knocks that out. Prussic acid? Professor Wood settles that. She went upstairs some time that morning. Well, what of it? It has been shown that she might have done so without seeing her stepmother's body, even if the guest chamber door was open. There Was a Note from Someone.

There has been no evidence to show that it was not buried with Mrs. Borden, or that it was destroyed according to her custom of destroying all correspondence. Harrington found something like charred

She went to the barn at a suspiciously convenient time. Who can disprove it? Why should she not have gone? Why is it unreasonable to suppose she did go, if of the Afghan troops were killed, were all was as usual and she moved carelessly and according to the thoughts which may have suggested themselves to her? She made contradicting statements. Yes

-at the inquest, when badgered without the protection of counsel, confused and entangled in a maze of sharp questions.

What was the motive? A difference of opinion between herself and her stepmother. Six years—also giving her six years to sharpen the axe and prepare to chop the old lady's head and that of her father as well—for good meashre, probably.

That is the theory of the defense.

PLATFORM AND CANDIDATES Which Will Be Supported by Connecti-cut Prohibitionists This Fall.

Testimony Appears Strongly in Favor of Lizzie Borden.

HARTFORD, Sept. 1.—The platform, as adopted by the state Prohibition convention, deplores the liquor traffic as the chief menace of the state and nation. High license can afford no relief. It gives ncentive intrenchment and monopoly to the traffic. The public welfare requires the entire suppression of the beverage traffic in manufacture, sale, transporta tion and importation. The American school system is unequivocally indorsed and appropriations for sectarian purposes denounced. The ballot to all, regardless of sex, and equal pay to the sexes for equal work, is advocated.

On the tariff question the platform favors protecting American interests by a counsel in the great Borden tragedy will return to "a tariff for revenue to defray address the court upon the question as to the necessary expenses of the government, whether or not there is probable ground for holding Lizzie A. BRIEF SKETCH OF HIS CAREER.

His Boyhood Days in New England and His Rise to Fame.

WEST BRIGHTON, S. I., Sept. 1.-George William Curtis, the well known author and journalist, died yesterday morning at his residence here.

Last July Mr. Curtis' illness assumed a serious form. He had not been feeling well since the middle of June, but he continued to do his regular work until after the Fourth of July. Just before the Fourth a change for the worse took place, and soon Dr. Janeway and Mr. Curtis brother, Dr. Curtis, were called in to aid the local physician. The trouble was in

GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS. Mr. Curtis was born at Providence, Feb. 24, 824. He received his early education in a rivate school at Jamaica Plain, Mass. At the age of 15 he removed with his father from Providence to New York, where for a year he was a clerk in a mercantile house. In 1842 he went with his elder brother to reside at Brook Farm, in West Roxbury, Mass., where h passed a year and a half in study and agricu-tural labor; after which he went to Concord Mass., and with his brother spent eight months there, living with a farmer, and bout taking part regularly in the ordinary wo the farm, and afterward for six months ti. small piece of land on their own account.

A Trip Abroad. In 1846 Mr. Curtis went to Europe, and after in Egypt and Syria. In 1850 he returned to the United States and published his first He soon joined the editorial staff of the New York Tribune, and in the summer of 1851 vrote a series of letters to that journal from rarious watering places, which were after-ward collected in a volume under the title of "Lotus Eating." His second book, however, was "The Howadji in Syria," published in 1852. In the autumn of 1852 Putnam's Monthly was commenced in New York, of which Mr.

These competitive tests would place resi ing and assure to the board the confidence of all-who believe in fair play and no favor. It is evident that better choice can be made from a large number of applicants who have satisfied the committee as to their qualifications, than from a few who have never been tested or even seen by any member of the board and who are generally selected in a hurry to fill an unexpected vacancy. These tests would lessen the excessive labors of the Superintendents of Schools in many ways, and to the profit of the children. We depreciate the loss of time suffered by the present manner of compelling the Superintendent to travel long distances, sometimes out of the State in order to view the work of applicants whose qualifications frequently might be shown to be inadequate by actual test of competition. We regard the

As that of an educational expert, and regret that so much of his valuable time has necessarily to be spent outside of our school rooms and away from the children. By calmly and judiciously to consider whether these examinations it is highly probable or not another plan should be pursued that a large list could be made of successful which is in operation in many of the best candidates who live in or near Boston, so educational cities, and which is generally that their work could be readily scrutinized considered indispensible to the just and without making the long and often requitable distribution of desirable public peated journeys now imposed on the Superintendent.

The Proposed System

It is evident from the emphatic words of Is in line with civil service reform, the public service. Justice should rule our action. Justice to the schools and in equal will be safe to expect from most of these the additional qualities which make the ideal teacher. A committee on examinations could easily require answers which would manifest the comparative judgment, tact, firmness, governing capacity and general ability of applicants.

Thirteen were natives of Poland, three natives of Hesse. one Austrian, five Prussians. All were buried at sea. The steamer was immediately ordered into the lower bay. The steerage passengers were carefully in-spected and all of them found quite well. There are three cases of measles on board. The Moravia left Hamburg on Aug. 18. The health officers who made the inspection of the Moravir's passengers pro-nounce the cause of death in the stricken cases as true Asiatic cholera. All the emigrants in the ship were transferred to Hoffman's island. The vessel and baggage of the passengers have been under going disinfection by steam.

The Situation in London. LONDON, Sept. 1.-Tories and Liberals unite in urging the government to pro-hibit immigration during the prevalence on the continent of cholera. Experts are now pretty unanimous in declaring that the present system of inspection and quarantine is sufficient to protect the country from any serious invasion of the disease. The cases already reported as having broken out in London and elsewhere in England crept in before the government had had time to perfect its plans. Spreading in Brussels. BRUSSELS, Sept. 1.-While the conditions as to cholera are said to be improving in Antwerp, the disease is evidently extending in Brussels. There have been two fatal cases in the suburbs of this city.

Rouen Has It. ROUEN, Sept. 1.—Three cholera patients have been admitted to the city hospital since yesterday afternoon. One of them died. Nobility Not Exempt.

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—The deaths from cholera is reported of the Baroness Sidfok and the Pamir question. her daughter, at Platten See, Hungary. Liverpool's Cases. LIVERPOOL, Sept. 1.-One of the cholera patients here is dead and two others are in a critical condition.

How They Discovered Inside Doings of the Amalgamated Association.

PITTSEURG, Sept. 1.—John Wippel and John Nebon were arrested in Homestead yesterday and brought to Pittsourg, charged by the Carnegle company with riot. Together with T. F. Gibson, previously held on the same charge they were given a hearing before Alderman Mo-Masters. R. H. Tyler and Joseph Knippe, Pinkerton detectives, were placed on the Pinkerton detectives, were placed on the witness stand and caused consternation to the defense by producing their working cards, issued to them by the Duquesne which they had been initiated a short time before the strike. The cards gave them entrance to all gatherings of the working men. The Pinkertons testified that a short time before the riots at Duquesne, the had attended a meeting, at which a result in the men organize themselves in sounds the wheels wind up the spring, and, by a hand device, he can throw them out of gear when the indicator tells him guard the mill, so that no one should be the proper tension. To Revolutionize Trotting. A well known Santa Rosa horseman has a scheme for trotting horses which promises to beat the "scoot" track all to itself, but will push the horse along a bit too. He says it is to be built on the plan of the watch. It will have big coil springs to drive the wheels and he contends that it will revolutionize trotting. Right under the driver's seat the springs will be located, and it is his intention to have things so nicely adjusted that the proper tension. Thus in scoring

The Most Familiar Mineral.

If one were to ask his friends what mineral we are most familiar with and most commonly used as food the answers would probably be both varied and amusing. Salt would, I fancy, first suggest itself to many, and to those whose training in physiology and hygiene has not been neglected no doubt the claims of lime and iron and carbon, which in one form or another we use with food to build up bone and brawn, would be amply urged. But, after all, it is water, for water is a mineral—a fused mineral. You will find it described as such, along with quartz and T. Mitchell Prudden in Harper's.

Her Case Will Now Go to the Grand Jury.

PROMPT DECISION OF THE JUDGE.

Arguments of the Prosecution and the Defense Outlined

FALL RIVER, Sept. 2.—"Lizzie A. Bor

The prisoner at the bar arose. Strong men struggled to control the emotion which almost overwhelmed them. Women bent low their heads and wept silently. The judge himself sat limp and helpless after the decision which he had ound it almost impossible to announce. The strangest of women, the chief figure n that strangest of scenes, stood erect and firm, though the die was cast; steady though the end had come; in a word-her

"The judgment of this court is that you are probably guilty of the charge against you. It is therefore the order of this cour that you be committed to the county jail at Taunton to await the action of the grand jury, which meets on the first Monday in November at Taunton.'

That was all. She sank down beside the aged minister and calmly waited to be escorted back to her room. The closing scene of the long hearing was deeply tragic. It finds few parallels in the history of criminal procedure. Once during it all-when her counse spoke with emotion, that choked him, of the old man whose youngest child she was-the prisoner covered her face for a moment and wiped away the scalding Tears Which Had Come at Last.

Throughout the impassioned appeal of Mr. Jennings she was visibly affected, but the keen, clear, uncompromising logic of the district attorney did not move her. Even during his dramatic presentation of the circumstances which, he submitted, gave her the exclusive opportunity for the commission of the crime, even when he said conclusively: "It was at that moment that the hatchet entered the skull of Abbie Borden," the prisoner showed no emo-

Mr. Jennings' Appeal.

Mr. Jennings threw his soul into his appeal for the prisoner. He first proceeded calmly to dissect the evidence which the state presented, claiming that it was entirely circumstantial; that it did not show that an outside assassin would necessarily have been seen had he approached or left the house; that it did not disreference to her movements on the norning of the crime; that her contradic tory statements should not weigh against her, because of the extraordinary examination to which she had been subjected at the secret inquest; that the testimony proved no motive whatever; that the prisoner had no motive; and, finally, that the crime laid at her door was, all things considered, beyond the bounds of credibility. On the other hand, he dwelt at length upon the effect of Professor Wood's testimony and that of Dr. Draper, saying it was fatal to the cause of the prosecution, and pointed believing that the order cannot keep its out that, beyond question, suspicious men had been seen on the premises on the morning of Aug. 4. He scored Medical Examiner Dolan and Eli Bence because of unwarranted strength of their testimony, and concluded with a peroration marked by fine fire and dramatic force, in which he demanded the release of the prisoner. It was a fine effort.

The Effect.

At its close the crowd involuntarily broke into enthusiastic applause. The prisoner was visibly affected. Colonel Melvin O. Adams, who sat beside her, was unable to restrain his emotion. His heart was in the grand fight that his colleague was making. He drew a handkerchief across his eyes repeatedly and warmly asped Mr. Jennings' hand in congratula tion when the latter had finished.

Rev. Mr. Buck followed the counsel's ery one of them found an echo in his heart. His face told that. The audience heard in breathless silence. They sympathized with the spirit of that grand appeal, but they feared it was unavailing.

Taking up the evidence, he proceeded by a process of exclusion to show that the prisoner alone had an opportunity to commit the crime. With that given, he dissected her alibi, claiming that it was flimsy, and did not weigh for a moment against the testimony of Bridget, the indi-cations that the work was that of a woman, and the fact that it was Mrs. Borden who was the first object of attack and the chief object of hatred.

was evident before he had spoken a dozen words. He spoke with extreme difficulty throughout, and was forced to pause for some time before closing his announce-ment. The crowd was subdued and the cause extremely affecting.

For a moment it seemed that the judge would break down. Tears filled his eyes. His voice was tremulous and husky. Ther he rallied and said slowly and with extreme sadness:

MOVE FOR A NEW LIBRARY.

Lynn's Present Quarters Are Overcrowded and Insufficient

LYNN, Mass., Sept. 2.—The Lynn pub lic library yesterday issued a bulletin containing a complete list of all books added to the institution since May 1, 1888. The library now occupies cramped quarters i the second story of the city hall. Ther is but one room, and that is packed full of shelves and tables, used both for a book and reading-room. The need of a suitable public library building is being felt more and more each day as the population of the city and the demands upon it increase. Librarian Houghton said that he was glad to note that the people of the city are becoming interested and are actually de-manding a new building to be devoted exclusively to library purposes.

Mayor Hayes, who is also president of the library, is interesting himself to a con siderable extent in a new building, and all indications are that before many months plans will be formulated for securing a first-class institution.

As I was coming down Copeland street one day this week, I witnessed a curious yet ludicrous scene. Nearly opposite Centre street, bordering along Copeland is a small pond, around which several children were seemingly engaged in some arduous pursuit. As I drew near I perceived they were fishing, utilizing bent pins for hooks, and strings for fishing lines.

I watched them for a long time, and see ing no fruit of their labors, I asked them for what they were fishing, when these youthful disciples of Isaak Walton meekly informed me that they were endeavoring to catch hornpouts. IS IT CHOLERA?

A New York Doctor Thinks He Has a Genuine Case in Hand.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.-A Suspected case of holera has been discovered in the heart of side. Shortly after 7 o'clock last night, Dr. Beck was summoned to the tenement 95 Orchard street. In a room on the fourth floor of the building he found a man lying on a sofa, suffering great agony. The man said that he felt pains in his bones, that his stomach ached him and that he became suspicious when he saw the case, and asked the man, who was a foreigner, his name and how long he had been in the country. The man region that he is storied in the country. The man region that he is storied in the country. The man region that he is storied in the country. He said he was born ture; south winds.

The doctor, after affording the patient some temporary relief, reported the case to the police, saying that the symptoms and the fact that the man only came to this country recently by way of Hamburg, led him to believe that the man was suffering from cholera. The police promptly notified the board of health, and an inspector was sent to the house. The house is a five-story tenement, occupied by about twenty families. There are over 100 people living in the place. They became greatly alarmed when they heard that Etuainiz, who was living with his sister, was believed to be suffering from cholera, and many of them preferred to walk the streets rather than go to bed. At the bureau of contagious diseases those in charge declined to express any opinion in regard to the matter, saying that they were not at liberty to give out anything at present.

Deputy Health Officer Sanborn, who has been in charge of the Moravia since Wednesday, returned to quarantine last night and reported that there were no new developments.

Baking Lizzie Borden's Case May Never Come to Trial.

PROMINENT OFFICIAL'S OPINION

Is That the Unfortunate Woman Will Be Confined in an Asylum.

Boston, Sept. 3.—The Globe this morning has the following special from Fall with prescriptions and remedies against to Washington by constructing between the cholera. As water is said to be the the two cities a boulevard and an electric made the following authoritive statement to the writer, conditionally that his name

-What we have always believed of the be withheld from publication. He said: southern vote seem to be coming true, and "On the day of the murder, and very that is, that any issue but the race one would split the solid vote. Whenever the with Lizzie A. At the present | view of her face. At the inquest I heard her testimony. the race question is lost to sight in the vast-

"I believe I have observed her more closely than any other person connected with the prosecution. "What do I think?

"In answering that question I will

First Explain My Reasons for framing my opinion of her. During fourteen years' official work for the state I have seen and dealt with many cases of insanity. I have been brought in constant contact frequently with the inmates of the Taunton insane hospital and of the Worcester asylum. I consider myself a vell qualified to judge a case of mental ir regularity as any man who is not an expert on insanity or a physician accus tomed to the treatment of brain diseases

"With such experience, basing my opin-on on what I have seen of Lizzie's eyes WE secured this important bargain direct from the mills, some few yards were slightly damaged and the dealer to whom the lot was consigned, refused to accept it. We were the gainers as we purchased the lot at a sacrifice price. Close buyers will do well to examine this lot early as it will be impossible to find its equal again. and movements, her physical make-up and mannerisms, I am loth to believe her a victim of mania. Her eyes have been very unnatural, and the way she has used them is identical with that of a person mentally deranged. This has been noted when her countenance was in repose, when t was not possibly assumed. The expression I have seen her wear time after time LABOR DAY BICYCLE RACES.

Indicative of Mental Disturbance. "She has looked wilder and more irre-sponsible half of the time the past fort-night than any person I have seen in the Taunton hospital in months. My opinio has been corroborated by an expert who was led out of curiosity to attend the hearing one day and observe her. As firmly as I believe she committed the murder, just so firmly do I think it the work of one insane. People may say, why doesn't she show signs of disturbanc now? It is a well-known fact that a pe son may be comparatively sound on all matters but one. That is the way I think

"When she has been locked up a fev weeks and the excitement of the examina-tion is off, I shall look for mental collapse and more definite signs of her trouble. In the event of my prediction coming true, it would be only necessary to procure the services of two doctors to examine her, liturgy into the Catholic and United and then, without much ado, an order ould be given for her removal to the insane hospital, and that would be the end of the prosecution of the Borden murder case. This I really believe will be

The Ultimate Result. "If Lizzie's condition is what I really think it is, such an end will be certain. I she is mentally sound and her counsel ap preciates the true strength of the govern ment's case, with comparatively little trouble the same methods could be dinary of Glynn county, who was arrested adopted with the same results. In either for safe robbery Thursday is missing, have case I would not be the least surprised if Lizzie Borden never came to trial."

If the name of the official above quoted could be given it would lend much weight whose safe he robbed. Before leaving to his statements. The gentleman in Blaine wired his resignation as ordinary question has had greater experience than Marshal Hilliard, and is of sound judgment. He knows the facts in the Borden case as thoroughly as the former, and in his interview with the writer an unpreju diced opinion was sought and given.

Fall River is regaining its former quiet The question uppermost in the public mind is, can Lizzie Borden be insane?

A Peculiar Case Arising Under the Will of a Boston Man.

Boston, Sept. 3.—A peculiar state of facts is found to exist in settling up the estate of the late Hammond W. Vinal, a well-known citizen of Boston, who died a few months ago. Mr. Vinal left a large estate, including an investment of $50,000 in United States registered bonds. These bonds Mr. Vinal, for some reason known only to himself, had registered in his name as "trustee." Yesterday Solomor Lincoln came before Judge Allen in the supreme court and said that the executors of Mr. Vinal could not draw the interest on the bonds, there being no successor in the trust. Mr. Lincoln said that there was no doubt that the bonds were bought with Mr. Vinal's own money, and that he was in fact trustee in name only, but under the circumstances it was necessary One of the prosecuting officials in the Borden case, who has had peculiarly good opportunities for studying the defendant, the court as a successor in trust in the matter of the bonds.

Judge Allen asked Mr. Lincoln if the latter could give the statute under which frequently since that time, I have talked Lincoln said that he did not know of any statute, but that he thought the court Mr. Lincoln added that he had never heard of a similar case in his experience, and Judge Allen, who before his appoint ment to the bench had a very large equity practice, intimated that the case was equally novel with him. It was finally decided to let the matter rest for a few days and in the meantime Mr. Lincoln will try and devise some plan for escaping from the dilamma which Mr. Vinally from the dilemma which Mr. Vinal's nobody could land from it. course has created.

Three Exiled Generals Will Lead a War Movement in Hayti.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 .- A Kingston, Ja maica letter says: A strong party of Hay-tien exiles, headed by General Manigat, General Piquant and General Legitime, are negotiating for the charter of a small schooner, called the Willie Irving, to carry them either to Navassa or Inagua, where they expect to meet a steamer fitted out to proceed against Hyppolite. The three generals agreed to work in conjunction a couple of months ago. In case Hyppolite is ousted, they will abide by the choice of the people as regards who shall be president, the other two to be appointed to lucrative offices. Those who claim to know affirm that Lanigat is the favorite

As to the President's Power to Quarantine Vessels.

THE CASE OF ACTING CONSUL BURKE.

Was Probably Unaware That the Moravia Was Cholera-Infected.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Dr. Jenkins yesterday said he would use his discretion about keeping vessels in quarantine for twenty days. If he saw fit he would quarantine vessel more than twenty days, or less. He claimed that he had full authority, and that the president's order could not affect him or cause him to do otherwise than a his judgment induced him.

Collector Hendricks said that if ther was a conflict of authority the federal power would prevail. No vessel could land passengers or cargo unless the vessel was entered at the custom house, and he would act according to the instructions of the Washington authorities.

Colonel Weber, the emigration commis sioner, said no cabin or steerage passenger would be landed at this port without authority from the Washington govern ment. It would do no good for Dr. Jen kins to allow a vessel to go above quaran-tine before the twenty days expired, for As Viewed at Washington.

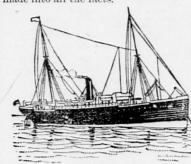

Washington, Sept. 3.—A New York dispatch, containing Dr. Jenkins' views with respect to the twenty days' quaran tine order, was shown to President Harri son, but he declined to say anything in regard to it for publication. Secretary Foster said that Dr. Jenkins had not read the circular very carefully, for it was expressly drawn to reserve the doctor's power i the premises.

It was prepared so as not to interfer with any rights held by the states and there was no interference in the state's administration of the law. The circular says: "Unless such detention is forbid den by the laws of the state or the regula tions made thereunder."

Assistant Secretary Spaulding said the matter of the length of time of quarantine is committed by the circular to the health authorities

ABOUT THE MORAVIA.

Opinions Differ Regarding the Responsi bility Resting Upon Consul Burke. Washington, Sept. 3.—The suggestio that Charles H. Burke, acting consul a Bremen, who gave a clean bill of health on Aug 16, to the steamer Moravia, should be dismissed for remissness or dereliction of duty, was brought to the attention of Assistant Secretary Adee of the state de partment. "The department has not been asked to act in the matter," he caid, "and I have no opinion to give nor statement to ing consul, I have no doubt the depart ment will order an investigation to be made into all the facts."

THE MORAVIA.

One official, speaking of the suggestion, said that the files of the newspapers and board of health of New York, who seemed to be especially bitter against the authorities at Hamburg, demonstrated that Act ing Consul Burke could not justly be cen sured. "They show," he asserted, "that on the 16th, the day that Mr. Burke gave supreme treasurer, and other members of a clean bill of health to the Moravia, the existence of cholera in Hamburg was un known to any one save the physicians and officials, who denied that there was any such thing existant there.'

Chinese May Have to Move. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—Mayor Sander-son, Health Officer Kenney and a number of physicians made an inspection of the sanitary condition of Chinatown. Dr Kenney, in his report to the board o health, will recommend that the entire Chinese quarter be condemned and re moved from its present location.

Scare Was Needless.

New York, Sept. 3.—The two cases at 95 Orchard street, reported by Dr. Best as virulent cholerine, have been thoroughly investigated by the health officers, who after a most careful diagnosis, report both the men to be suffering from acute diar rhoea. Both the patients are much bette and on a fair way to recovery.

Back to Loon Lake. WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—President Harri son left Washington at 7 o'clock last even-ing for Loon Lake. It is understood that the president left with his stenographer copies of his letter accepting the presidential nomination, and that they will prob ably be given to the press Sunday night.

To Rush Into Politics.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Assistant Secre tary Crounse of the treasury departmen expects to relinquish his office next week when he will go to Nebraska to enter the gubernatorial campaign. His resignation was sent to Secretary Foster and by him transmitted to the president.

Five Youngsters Attempt Suicide. BERLIN, Sept. 3.—Clara Weinecke, aged 13 of this city, agreed with her four brothers and sisters to commit suicide in order to escape the cruelty of a brutal stepmother. All the children were rescued from death except Hermann, aged who perished. Clara was tried on a charge of inciting to murder, and was found guilty and sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

The locked out granite cutters are holding their picnic at Lovell's grove today and large crowd is in attendance. The parade this morning was a little late in starting, but the crowds who had gathered in the centre to witness it were good natured and waited patiently.

A few minutes after nine o'clock the strains of martial music were heard up Hancock street, and instantly everyone was on the qui vive to catch a glimpse of the men who are battling against capital. Far up the streets, floating above the ranks of the men, rose the stars and stripes, the emblem of liberty and independence. The men presented a fine appearance as they passed the LEDGER office, and there were 364 men in line. The procession was headed by President Smith and six aids, followed by the City band. The day is all that could be desired, and is expected that Secretary Dyer of the National Union and President McNeil of the Builders' Union of Boston will attend the picnic.

Carson and others, which has been instituted to recover an alleged preference. Carson was scribe of a subordinate lodge, and in the latter and that the "goose hunked high." part of 1891 had in his possession 250 ma tured certificates, in payment of which the supreme officers gave him a check for $25,000, which was not paid. When Sumner P. Smith of the Rising Sun Order was about to leave for Mexico, he was approached by Carson and induced to give the latter $20,000 on account.

Lyman and Wainwright, after they were appointed assignees by the Suffolk county court of insolvency, brought the suit in the superior court, alleging that the payment of the $20,000 was a preference. Carson has now brought a bill in equity in which he asks to have the suerior court suit enjoined, and incidentally asks that the court declare the ap pointment of the assignees invalid on the ground that the Order of the Rising Sun is a foreign corporation and cannot be allowed to go into voluntary insolvency in this commonwealth. The court declined to issue the injunction, but ordered the assignees to file an answer by Sept. 16, and set the case for a hearing Sept. 20.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.-Charles F. Peck, the labor commissioner of this state, is at the Victoria Hotel. In an interview with a United Press reporter he said: "My reeither party desires it, my figures and blanks on which the conclusions are based can be shown. I really do not care to discuss it further," said the commissioner. 'It speaks for itself and I have talked myself out. I will say, however, that neither Senator Hill nor Edward Murphy knew of a single line of the report until it was printed. I am a Democrat and will vote for Cleveland, and it is unjust to citicize me for my official actions. thermore I say that when the blanks were sent out to the manufacturers, I knew nothing of their individual politics."

TAKE WARNING!

NEGLECT NOT THE SIGNALS OF DANGER.

An Object Lesson Taught by the Indians.

Let the Way be Simple and the Remedy Safe.

If you are ailing, not exactly sick, but not feeling "just right," have a drowsy, dull feel-ing, bad taste in the mouth, variable appetite, occasional pains in the joints and mus-cles, and other signs of impending sickness, why do you not do as the Indian does—drive such symptoms out of the system by the judi-cious use of their vegetable remedy? Don't neglect such warnings.

That pain in your shoulder may develor nto rheumatism, and a month's sickness deprive you of the income of your toil.

That furry tongue denotes your liver is out of order, and typhoid fever would easily take oot in your system. What could you do then?

Think of your business, your income, and Seek safety as you would fly from cholera or smallpox.

You are in danger if you neglect these warnings. They may pass off, but the chances are against you, and even then the poison is only latent in your system.

Do not, however, put your trust in the numerous so-called "sarsaparillas" with which the market is flooded. Sarsaparilla bark is not a medicine, it is a flavoring, nothing more. The action of many of these decod ns comes from the mineral poisons the contain, such as mercury, arsenic, strychniue bismuth, iodide of potassium, and the like and any druggist will tell you, if he tells you truly, that this is so.

Kickapoo Indian Sagawa and other Kickapo the field and forest, nature's own vegetab growth of roots, barks and herbs, and of necessity are free from all mineral poisons whatever because the Indians have no knowledge of them depending wholly upon nature's laboratory fo their resources, and upon their skill, born of centuries of experience, in preparing them.

Kickapoo Indian Sagawa, made by the In-dians from roots, barks and herbs of their own yathering and curing, is obtainable of any druggist at one dollar per bottle; six bottles for

A special interest has been taken by me in the establishment of lines from our south Atlantic and gulf ports; and though my expectations have not yet been realized, attention has been called to the advantages possessed these ports, and when their people are more fully alive to their interests, I do not doubt that they will be able to secure the capital needed to enable them to profit by their great natural advantages. The Democratic party has found no place in its platform for any reference to this subject, and has shown its hostility to the general policy by refusing to expend an appropriation made by the last atministration for ocean mail contracts with American lines. In response to the notice in the Ledger states, but in some and circulars distributed about Houghs states, but in some foreign countries. The Neck and Rock Island Saturday, some two trol of the government, is now pledged hundred summer residents and property hundred summer residents and property owners at this resort gathered at Mears' pavilion Sunday evening to consider the subject of better fire protection for this district.

The meeting organized with John Whitney Hall as chairman and George Wilson as secretary.

The subject was quite thoroughly discussed by the citizens, who argued that the residents of this section paid sufficient taxes to warrant a better protection than now af-to warrant a better protection than now afforded. The city in one sense was to blame and in another it was not for it to warrant a better protection than now afblame, and in another it was not, for it had never been asked to do anything. When the matter was brought up before the City Council after the fire last year, one of the councilmen, although a property owner here, threw cold water on the subject.

The chemical, now located here, was all in the councilment and the whole business of the country was hindered and burdened. Changes may become necessary, but a national system of currency, safe and acceptable throughout the whole country, is the good fruit of bitter experience, and I am sure our neople will not consent to the reacblame, and in another it was not, for it

Chief Engineer Ripley who was present answered a number of questions. As to whether a fire alarm box could be put in, he said that there was no doubt but what a box could be put in and that it would work all right. He did not seem very enthusiastic over the location of a box at Houghs Neck on the present circuit, but this section might be protected by a circuit of its own.

Treights for transporting to Europe the enormous annual supplies of provisions furnished by this country and for the large return of manufactured products, have for many years been paid to foreign shipowners. The removal of the duty on sugar and the continuance of coffee and tea upon the free list, while giving great relief to our own people by cheapening articles used increasingly in every household, was also of such enormous advantage to the countries exporting these articles as to suggest that in consideration thereof reciprocal favors should be shown in their tariffs to articles exported by us to their markets.

Great credit is due to Mr. Blaine for the vigor with which he pressed this view upon the country. We have only begun to realize the benefit of these trade arrangements. The work of creating new agencies and of adapting our goods to new markets, has necessarily taken time; but the results already attained any successes that have been attained is in such measure due to others, senators and representatives, and to the efficient heads of taken time; but the results already attained ne we promptly and gladly accept. A few details only as to the increase of our trade can be given here. Taking the countries with which arrangements have been made, our trade to June 30, 1892, had increased 23.78 per cent. With Brazil the increase was nearly 11 per cent.; with Cuba, during the first ter nonths, our exports increased $5,702,193, or 54.86, and with Porto Rico $59,599, or 34 per ent. But for the first half of this year Spain has sent less than 1000 bags to the whole island, and the United States has sent to Havana alone 168,487 bags and about an equal amount to other ports of the island, making approximately 337,000 for the first half of 1892.

Are the farmers of the great grain rowing states willing to surrender these new large and increasing markets for their surplus? Are we to have nothing in exchange for the free importation of sugar and coffee and at the same time to destroy the sugar planters of the south and the beet-sugar in lustry of the northwest and of the Pacifi coast; or are we to have the taxed sugar and coffee which a

"Tariff for Revenue Only" necessarily involves, with the added loss of the ew markets, which have been opened? As I have shown, our commercial rivals in Europe do not regard this reciprocity as a 'sham," but as a serious threat to a trade su premacy they have long enjoyed. They would rejoice—and, if prudence did not restrain, would illuminate their depressed manufactur-ing cities—over the news that the United States had abandoned its system of protection States had abandoned its system of protection and reciprocity. They see very clearly that restriction of American products and a corresponding increase of European production and trade would follow, and I will not believe that what is so plain to them can be hidden from our own people. The declaration of the platform in favor of "the American doctrine of protection" meets my most hearty approval. The convention did not adopt a schedule, but a principle that is to control all tariff scheda principle that is to control all tariff sched-ules. An Object Lesson Taught by the Indians.

Let the Way be Simple and the Remedy Safe.

If you are ailing, not exactly sick, but not feeling 'just right," have a drowsy, dull feeling, bad taste in the mouth, variable appetite, occasional pains in the joints and muscles, and other signs of impending sickness, why deyounct do as the Indian does—drive such symptoms out of the system by the judicious use of their vegetable remedy?

Don't neglect such warnings. That pain in your shoulder may develop into rheumatism, and a month's si kness derive you of the income of your toil.

That furry tongue denotes your liver is out of order, and typhoid fever would easily take root in your system.

What could you do then?

Think of your b siness, your income, and your family.

You are in danger if you neglect these waru ngs. They may pass off, but the chances are against you, and even then the poison is are against you, and even then the poison is only latent in your system.

Do not, however, put your trust in the numerous so-called "saisaparillas" with which the market is flooded. Sarsaparilla bark is not a medicine, it is a flavoring, nothing more. The action of many of these decoctions comes from the mineral poisons they contain, such as mercury, arsenic, strychnive, bismuth, iodide of potassium, and the like, and any druggist will tell you, if he tells you truly, that this is so.

Kickapoo Indian Sagawa and other Kickapoo Indian medicines contain only the product of the field and forest, nature's own vegetable growth of roots, barks and herbs, and of necessity are free from all mineral poisons whatever, because the Indians have no knowledge of them, depending wholly upon nature's laboratory for their resources, and upon their skill, born of centuries of experience, in preparing them.

FREE Send three two-cent stamps to pay postage, and we will mail you free a thrilling and interesting book of 173 pages, entitled "Life and Scenes Among the Kickapoo Indians." ticular articles necessary to effect an equal ization between wages abroad and at home. In some remote national campaigns the issue has been—or, more correctly, has been made to appear to be—between a high and a low to appear to be—between a high and a low protective tariff, both parties expressing some solicitous regard for the wages of our prking people and for the prosperity of our tomestic industries. But, under a more courageous leadership, the Democratic party has now practically declared that, if given power, it will enact a tariff law

Without Any Regard to its effect on wages or upon the capital in vested in our great industries. The majority report of the committee on platform to the Democratic national convention at Chicago contained this clause: contained this clause:

That when custom house taxation is levied apon articles of any kind produced in this country, the difference in the cost of labor abroad, when such a difference exists, fully measures any possible benefits to labor, and the enormous additional impositions of the existing tariff fall with crushing force upon our farmers and workingmen.

our farmers and workingmen.

Here we have a distinct admission of the Reblican contention that American workmen your family.

Seek safety as you would fly from cholera are advantaged by a tariff rate equal to the difference between home and foreign wages and a declaration only against the alleged "additional impositions" of the existing tariff law. Again, this majority report further de

> But in making a reduction in taxes, it is not proposed to injure any domestic industries, but rather to promote their healthy growth. Moreover, many industries have come to rely upon legislation for successful continuance, so that any change of law must be at ance, so that any change of law must be at every step regardful of the labor and capital thus involved.

Here we have an admission that many of our industries depend upon protective duties "for their successful continuance," and a declaration that tariff changes should be regardful of the workmen in such industries and of the invested capital.

The Overwhelming Rejection se propositions, which had before received the sanction of Democratic national conventions, was not more indicative of the new and more courageous leadership to which Kickapoo Indian Sagawa, made by the Indians from roots, barks and herbs of their own gathering and curing, is obtainable of any druggist at one dollar per bottle; six bottles for five dollars.

Calculate which was adopted. The substitute declares that protective duties are unconstitutional, high protection, low protection, all unconstitutional. A Democratic congress, holding this view, cannot enact, nor a Democratic president, approved the constitution of the co president approve any tariff schedule, the purpose of which is to limit importations or to give any advantage to an American workman

> A bounty might, I judge, be given to the im porter-under this view of the constitution, in order to increase important importations and so increase the revenue only, is the limitation. Reciprocity of course falls under this denunciation, for its object and effect are not revenue but the enue but the promotion of commercial exchanges, the profits of which go wholly to our producers. This destructive un-American doctrine was not held or taught by the historic Democratic statesmen, whose fame as Ameri-can patriots has reached the generation—certainly not by Jefferson or Jackson.

This mad crusade against American shops,the bitter epithets applied to American manufacturers, the persistent disbelief of every report of the opening of a tin plate mill or an increase over foreign trade by reciprocity are as surprising as they are discreditable. There is not a thoughtful business man in the country who does not know that the enactment into law of the declaration of the convention at Chicago, on the subject of the tariff, would at ance plunge the country into a business convulsion such as it has never seen, and there is not a thoughtful workingman in the country who Souther's Periodical Store, 1 Granite does not know that it would at once enormously reduce the amount of work to be done in this country by the increase of importations hat would follow, and would necessitate a reduction of his wages to the European standard.

If any one suggests that this radical policy will not be executed if the Democratic party attains power, what shall be thought of a great interests? The threat of such legisla-tion would be only less hurtful than the fact. A distinguished Democrat rightly described his movement as a challenge to the protected ndustries to a fight of extermination, and another such rightly expressed the logic of the situation when he interpreted the Chicago platform to be an invitation to all Democrats

And now a few words in regard to

The Existing Tariff Law. We are fortunately able to judge of its in fluence upon production and prices by the market reports. The day of the prophet of calamity has been succeeded by that of the trade reporter. An examination into the effect enter into the living of people of small means, has been made by a senate committee composed of leading senators of both parties, with the aid of the best statisticians, and the reduced the composed of the best statisticians, and the reduced the composed of the best statisticians, and the reduced the composed of the period of the best statisticians, and the reduced the composed of the period port, signed by all the members of the comittee, has been given to the public. No such vide and careful inquiry has ever before been nade. These facts appear from the report: First--The cost of articles entering into the us f those earning less than $1000 per annum ha decreased up to May, 1892, 34 per cent., while in farm products there has been an increase in price, owing in part to an increased foreign demand and the opening of new markets. In England during the same period the cost of living increased 1.9 per cent. Tested by their power to purchase articles of necessity, the earnings of our working people have never been as great as they are now.

Second—There has been an average advance in the rate of wages of .75 of 1 per cent.

Third—There has been an advance of prices of all products of 18.37 per cent., and of all cereals of 3.59 per cent.

The ninth annual report of the chief of the bureau of labor statistics of New York, a Democratic officer, very recently issued, strongly corroborates, as to that state, the facts found by the senate committee. His extended inquiry shows that in the year im-mediately following the passage of the tariff act of 1890 the aggregate sum paid in wages in that state was $6,377,925 in excess, and the ag-gregate production $31,315,130 in excess of the preceding year. In view of this showing of an articles of common necessity, of a marked advance in the prices of agricultural products, it s plain that this tariff law has not imposed ourdens, but has conferred benefits upon the farmer and the workingman. Some Special Effects of the Act should be noticed. It was a courageous attempt to rid the country of a long-maintained foreign monopoly in the production of tin plate, pearl buttons, silk plush, linens, lace, etc. Once or twice in our history the production of tin plate, pearl buttons, silk plush, linens, lace, etc. Once or twice in our history the production of tin plate, pearl buttons, silk plush, linens, lace, etc. Once or twice in our history the production of tin plate, pearl buttons, silk plush, linens, lace, etc. tion of tin plate had been attempted, and the prices obtained by the Welsh makers would this government for an international confer-But the Welsh makers at once cut prices to a point that drove the American beginners out of the business, and when this was accom-A correspondent of The Industrial World, the official organ of the Welsh tin-plate workers, published at Swansea, in the issue of June 0, 1892, advises a new trial of these methods.

And again that paper says: "It is clearly the Sir William Wallace. Sir Francis Drake. Sir Walter Raleigh. Earl of Leicester. Aristotle. Leonidas. Sir Robert Walpole.

Answers to puzzles published during the week will appear the following Monday.

And again that paper says: "It is clearly the interest of both—employer and workman—to produce tin plates, tariff or no tariff, at a price that will drive all competitors from the field." But in spite of the doubts raised by the elections of 1800 and of the machinations of foreign producers to maintain their monopoly, the tit plate industry has been established in the United States, and the alliance between the Welsh producers and the Democratic party for its destruction will not succeed.

The official returns to the treasury depart-ment of the production of tin and terne plates in the United States during the last fiscal year in the United States during the last fiscal year show a total production of 13,240,830 pounds, and a comparison of the first quarter, 826,922 pounds, with the last, 8,000,000 pounds, shows the rapid development of the industry. Over 5,000,000 pounds during the last quarter were made from American black plates; the remainder from foreign plates. Mr. Ayer, the treasury agent in charge, estimates, as the review of correlation of the state of the sult of general inquiry, that the production of the current year will be 100,000,000 pounds, and that by the end of the year our production will be at the rate of 200,000,000 pounds per annum Another Industry that has been practically created by the Mc-Kinley bill is the making of pearl buttons. Few articles coming to us from abroad were so distinctly the product of starvation wages. But, without unduly extending this letter, I cannot follow in detail the influences of the tariff law of 1890. It has transplanted several mportant industries and established them The act gives to the miners protection against man should resent or resist it. toreign silver bearing lead ores, the free introduction of which threatened the great mining industries of the Rocky mountain states; and to the wool growers protection for their fleeces and flocks, which has saved them from a furher and disastrous decline. The house of representatives, at its last ses sion, passed bills placing these ores and wool upon the free list. The people of the west know how destructive to their prosperity these measures would be. This tariff law has given employment to many thousands of American men and women, and will each year give em-ployment to increasing thousands. Its repeal would throw thousands out of employment and give work to others only at reduced wages.

The Appeals of the Free Trader to the workingman are largely addressed to his prejudices or to his passions, and not infrequently are pronouncedly communistic. The new Democratic leadership rages at the emlover and seeks to communicate his rage to he employe. I greatly regret that all em-ployers of labor are not just and considerate. and that capital sometimes takes too large a share of the profits. But I do not see that these evils will be ameliorated by a tariff policy, the first necessary effect of which is a severe wage cut, and the second a large diminulone in this country.

If the injustice of his employer tempts the workman to strike back, he should be very sure that his blow does not fall upon his own head or upon his wife and children. The workmen in our great industries are as a body remarkably intelligent, and are lovers of home and country. They may be roused by injustice, or what seems to them to be such, or be led fo the moment by others into acts of passion but they will settle the tariff contest in the calm light of their November firesides, and with sole reference to the prosperity of the country of which they are citizens and of the homes they have founded for their wives and

But it is confidently claimed that protections are supplyed to the confident of the products of labor. laimed that protective duties strongly tend to hold up wages, and are the only barrier against a reduction to the European scale.

The Southern States have had a liberal participation in the bene fits of the tariff law, and, though their representatives have generally opposed the protection policy, I rejoice that their sugar, rice, coal, iron, fruits, cotton cloths, and other products have not been left to the fate which the votes of their representatives would have brought upon them. In the construction of the Nicaragua canal, in the new trade with South and Central America, in the establishment of American steamship lines, these states have also special interests, and all these interests will not always consent to be without representation at Washington Shrewdly, but not quite fairly, our adver-saries speak only of the increased duties imposed upon tin, pearl buttons, and other articles, by the McKinley bill, and omit altoscher any reterence time field enlargement of the free list. During the fiscal year, $458,000,772 worth of merchandise, or 55.35 per cent. of our total importations, came in free—the largest percentage in our history; while in 1889, the per cent. of free importations was only 34.42 per cent. The placing of sugar upon the free list has saved to the consumer in duties in the last fifteen months, after paying the bounties provided months or 55.35 per cent. of our total importations. ially felt in every household, upon every Saturday's purchases of the workingman One of the favorite arguments made against a protective tariff is that it shuts us off from a participation in what is called with swelling emphasis, "the markets of the world." If this view is not a false one, how does it happer that our commercial competitors are not able to bear with more serenity our supposed sur-render to them of the "markets of the world?" Our natural advantages, our protective tariff and the reciprocity policy make it possible for us to have a large participation in the "mar-kets of the world," without opening our own to a competition that would destroy the com-ort and independence of our people.

The resolution of the convention in favor of bi-metallism declares, I think, the true and necessary conditions of a movement that has, upon these lines, my cordial adherence and support. I am thoroughly convinced that

The Free Coinage of Silver t such a ratio to gold as will maintain the quality in their commercial uses of the two pined dollars would conduce to the prosperity all the great producing and commercial nations of the world. The one essential con-lition is that these dollars shall have and re-ain an equal acceptability and value in all commercial transactions. They are not only a medium of exchange, but a measure of values; and when two unequal measures are norant are cheated. Dollars of unequal commercial value will not irculate together. The better dollar is withdrawn and becomes merchandise. The true interest of all our people, and especially of the armers and working people, who cannot closely observe the money market, is that every dollar, paper or coin, issued or authorized by the government, shall at all times and in all its uses be the exact equivalent not only in debt paying, but in purchasing power of any other dollar. I am quite sure that if we should now act upon this subject inde-pendently of other nations we would greatly romote their interests and injure own own. The monetary conditions in Europe within the last two years have, I think, tended very enable our makers to produce it at a profit, ence upon this subject was accepted by all the ence, which will now soon assemble. Our Election System.

He says:

Do not be deceived. The victory of the Republicans at the polls means the retention of the McKinley bill and means the rapidly accruing loss of 80 per cent of the export American trade. Had there been no Bemocratic victory in 1890 the spread of the tin plate manufacturers in the United States would have been both rapid and bonafde. It is not yet too late to do something to reduce the prices of plates. Put them down to 11s per box of 109, 14 by 20, full weight basis. Let the workman take half pay for a few months and turn out more. Then let the masters forego profits for the same time.

And again that paper says, 314. In my last annual message to congretion systems and methods might be com-mitted with a good prospect of securing

Many times I have had occasion to say that laws and elec-tion methods, designed to give unfair advantages to the party making them, would some time be used to perpetuate in power a faction of a party against the will of a majority of the people. Of this we seem to have an illustra-tion in the recent state election in Alabama. There was no Republican ticket in the field. The contest was between white Democrats. The Kolb party say they were refused the representation guaranteed by law upon the elecon board, and that, when the court by mandamus attempted to right this wrong, an appeal that could not be heard until after election, made the writs ineffectual.

Ballot boxes were thrown out for allged irregularities or destroyed, and it is asserted on behalf of one-half, at least, of the white voters of Alabama, that the officers to whom ertificates have been given were not honest elected. There is no security for the personal or political rights of any man in a community where any other man is deprived of his personal or political rights. The power of the states over the question of qualification of electors is ample to protect them against the dangers of an ignorant or deprayed suffrage, and the demand that every man found to be ualified under the law shall be made secure in the right to cast a free ballot and to have hat ballot honestly counted cannot be abated. Our old Republican battle cry,

"A Free Ballot and a Fair Count." comes back to us, not only from Alabama, but from other states, and from men who, differ-ing with us widely in opinions, have come to ee that parties and political debate are but a nockery if, when the debate ended, the judgent of honest majorities is to be reversed y ballot box frauds and tally sheet manipula-ons in the interest of the party or party faction in power. These new pelitical move-ments in the states and the recent decisions of some of the state courts against unfair apporionment law, encourage the hope that the ar-itrary and partisan election laws and prac-ices which have prevailed may be corrected by the states, the laws made equal and non-partisan and the elections free and honest.

The Republican party would rejoice at such a solution, as a healthy and patriotic local centiment is the best assurance of free and conest elections. I shall again urge upon conress that provision be made for the appointment of a non-partisan commission to consider he subject of apportionments and elections in heir relation to the choice of federal officers. The Civil Service System has been extended, and the law enforced with vigor and impartiality. There has been no partisan juggling with the law in any of the departments or bureaus, as had before happened, but appointments to the classification service have been pred in the classification. ervice have been made impartially from the eligible lists. care for them will be jealous and constant. The public school system, however, was not intended to restrain the natural right of the intended to restrain the public school system. Constant after contributing to the public school parent, after contributing to the public school fund, to choose other educational agencies for his children. I favored aid by the general government to the public schools, with a spe-cial view to the necessities of some of the southern states. But it is gratifying to notice that many of these states are with commenda-ble liberality, developing their school systems and increasing their school revenues to the great advantage of the children of both races.

To Farmers. The considerate attention of the farmers of the whole country is invited to the work done through the state and agricultural departments in the interest of agriculture. Our reasons given for this exclusion. All previous efforts to secure the removal of these restrictions had failed, but the wise legislation of the Fifty-first congress, providing for the inspec-tion and official certification of our meats, and called in law by the same name, commerce is insettled and confused and the unwary and giving to the president power to forbid the introduction into the confused and the unwary and traduction into the confused are the confused and the unwary and the confused are troduction into this country of selected products of such countries as should continue to refuse our inspected meats, enabled us to open ducts, and our exports of such products have been greatly increased, with a sure prospect of a further and rapid increase. The agricultural department has maintained in Europe an agent whose special duty it is to introduce there the various preparations of corn as articles of food, and his work has been very successfal. The department has also sent skilled veterinaries to Liverpool to examine, in connection with the British veterinaries, the live cattle from the United States landed at that port, and the result, in connection with the sanitary methods adopted at home, has been that we hear no more about our cattle being infected with pleauro-pneumonia.

We may confidently submit to the intelligent and candid judgment of the American farmer whether in any corresponding period so much has been done to promote his interests, and whether in a continuance and extension of these methods there is not a better prospect of food to him than in the invitation of the Democratic party to give our home market to foreign manufacturers and to abandon the reinvective sale abandon the reciprocity policy, and better also than the radical and untried methods of relief proposed by other parties which are oliciting his support. Thanks to Democrats.

It has been the purpose of the administra-tion to make its foreign policy not a matter of partisan polities, but of patriotism and national honor; and I have very great gratification in being able to state that the Demoratic members of the committees on foreign affairs responded in a true American spirit. I have not hesitated to consult freely with them about the most confidential and delicate about the most confidential and delicate affairs, and I frankly confess my obligation for needed co-operation.

They did not regard a patient but firm in istence upon American rights and immunity sistence upon American rights and immunity from insult and injury for our citizens and sailors in foreign ports as a policy of "irrita-tion and bluster." They did not believe, as some others seem to believe, that to be a Dem-ocrat, one must take the foreign side of every international question, if a Republican ad ministration is conducting the American side. I do not believe that a tame submission to insult and outrage by any nation at the hands of another, can ever form the basis of a lasting friendship-the necessary element of mutual respect will be wanting. About Foreign Powers.

The Chilian incident, now so happily and that brave people on a more friendly basis than ever before. This already appears in the agreement since negotiated by Mr. Egan for the settlement by a commission of the long unsettled claims between the two govern-ments. The work of Mr. Egan has been highly advantageous to the United States. The confidence which I refused to withdraw from him has been abundantly justified.

In our relations with the great European powers the rights of the United States and of our citizens have been insisted upon with firmness. The strength of our cause and not the strength of our adversary has given tone to our correspondence. The Samoan question and the Behring sea question, which came over from the preceding administration, have been, the one settled and the other submitted to arbitration upon a fair basis. Never before, I think, in a like period, have so many im-portant treaties and commercial agreements been concluded, and never before, I am sure, have the honor and influence, national and commercial, of the United States been held in higher estimation in both hemispheres.

The Union Soldiers and Sailors are now veterans of time as well as of war. The parallels of age have approached close to the citadels of life and the end for each, of a brave and honorable struggle is not remote. Increasing infirmity and years give the minor tone of sadness and pathos to the mighty appeal of service and suffering. The ear that does not listen with sympathy and the heart that does not respond with generosity are the ear and heart of an alien and not of an American. Now, soon again the surviving veterans are to parade upon the great avenue of the national capital, and every tribute of honor and love should attend the march. A comrade in the column of the victors' parade in 1865, I am not less a comrade now.

I have used every suitable occasion to urge upon the people of all sections the considera tion that no good cause can be promoted upon the lines of lawlessness. Mobs do not dis-criminate and the punishments inflicted by them have no repressive or salutatory influence. On the contrary they beget revenges and represented finds. It is especially the duty of the educated and influential to see that the

The necessity for a careful discrimination among the immigrants seeking our shores becomes every day more apparent. We do not want and should not receive those who, by reason of bad character or habits, are not wanted at home. The industrious and self-respecting, the lovers of law and liberty, should be discriminated from the pauper, the Public Schools.

Our interests in public schools, open to all children of suitable age, is supreme, and our care for them will be jealous and constant.

The men were called to the center of the ring by Referee Duffy, who, together with Cap tain Barrett, instructed the men as to how they should abide the Queensberry rules and the Olympic club rules as to breaking away.

Joe Choynski of San Francisco and Professor Robertson were McAuliffe's seconds, while Jimmy Nelson of Norwich, Conn., held the bottle. Ed Myer. Fifteenth and Last Round.

The opening of this round was characterized by several awkward attempts on the part of both men, and the audience cheered when the Streator man was knocked down with a heavy right. The Brooklynite again knocked him down as he arose, and this time Myer lay helpless on the ropes until he was counted out. It was a heavy right-hand swing that did the trick, and Jack McAuliffe was borne triumphantly on his seconds' shoulders to his corner. He was the recipient of hearty applause, notwithstanding the fact that New Orleans was known as a Myer city. Mac's seconds opened champagne in his corner. Myer was offered a glass of wine by his conqueror, which was accepted, and a hearty handshake wound up the greatest lattle recorded in the lightweight class since the days of Billy Edwards, Barney Aaron and Sam Collyer The fight was for a $10,000 purse and a stake of $5000 a side.

Selectman Fowler Willing to Back Up His Statements on the Subject.

HARTFORD, Sept. 7.-First Selectman Fowler is out with another statement resulting from his "baby farming" report made about six weeks ago. Recently, Anna L. Gray of Bloomfield, a daughter of Dr. Henry Gray, who Mr. Fowler reported as having taken young children to board from the City Mission, demanded of him a retraction of his statement referring to her home as a "baby farm." She threatened suits if retraction was not made. Selectman Fowler refuses to retract, invites the suit, and claims that Miss Gray is being backed in her demand upon him by the City Mission. He says that the ques-tion of whether Miss Gray kept a "baby farm" is merely one of degree.

A CURIOUS COMPLICATION

Arising from the Settlement of the Friendly Aid Society's Affairs. BOSTON, Sept. 7 .- A curious state of facts has developed in settling up the affairs of the Friendly Aid society, an endowment concern which is now in the hands of a receiver. When business was good the society had on deposit a considerable sum in the Boston National bank, and a sum in the Boston National bank, and a certificate of deposit for $12,500 was given by the bank to the secretary. After the processory took hold, a call was made by the certificate of the secretary. After the by the bank to the secretary. properly declined to transfer the money to the receiver. The latter was informed that the certificate had been accidentally destroyed, and then arose a question as to how to get the money.

The bank declined to pay it over without having a bond to secure it in case the certificate should turn up in the hands of an innocent holder who may have pur chased it, in case it was not destroyed. The receiver, if he gives a bond, will in turn desire to be secured, and to that end will retain the money itself for the purpose, there being no other way for him to do. Such being the case, the fund would be practically tied up for all time.

The lawyers who are interested for the certificate holders and others came into the supreme court vesterday for the pur-pose of having the court instruct them, if it could, as to what can be done, se that the money may be distributed. The lawyers themselves confessed that they do not see any way out of the difficulty, and it The same towns in is thought doubtful if the court will be able to help them any.

A Wreck at Wollaston.

There was a lively time at Wollaston on the Old Colony at about twelve o'clock last night. As a special inward passenger from Montello was passing Lincoln avenue, the connecting rods on the left hand side of the engine gave away and demolished that side of the cab. When opposite the Wollaston Club House the connecting rods on the right side broke carrying away one of the drivers on that side. The wrecking train came out and the wrecked engine was towed to Boston.

Brimecombe-McLeod.

The residence of Mr. A. A. Robertson, No. 9 Wilson street, was the scene of a happy wedding ceremony Saturday evening in which Mr. C. H. Brimecombe, carpenter and builder, son of Mr. Thomas Brimecombe of Ashwater, Devonshire, England, and Miss C. S. McLeod of Quincy were married. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. C. I. Keevil, in the presence of a large number of friends. The bride was attired in a becoming costume of white. Miss Minnie Robertson was bridesmaid and Mr. C. Parsons was best man. After a short visit to England, they will reside in their residence, which is to be erected by M. W. Frolund, at Norfolk Downs.

Reckless Shooting.

BULLETS FLEW FAST.

Chicago's Row Over the Garfield Track Results in a Triple Tragedy. CHICAGO, Sept. 7.-A riot at Garfield park race track late yesterday afternoon resulted in three men being fatally shot. One of the victims was J. M. Brown, the well-known horseman, reputed to be worth $500,000. The other two men were Police Officers Powell and McDowell. Monday the races were stopped and scores of spectators as well as bookmakers were arrested. It was while attempting a repetition of the raid that Officer Powell was shot and instantly killed by Brown.

McDowell was also fatally shot by Brown. McDowell then shot and instantly killed

Just before the shooting there were sensational developments in court where the trial of the people arrested Monday was in progress. Mayor Washburn testified that Chief of Police McLoughrey had told him of an offer of $30,000 to a political campaign fund by the owners of the Hawthorne track, a rival race course, if the rey went on the stand, and under oath made a denial of the statement made by the mayor.

A DESPERATE STRUGGLE Between a Detroit Clergyman and Would-Be Robber.

DETROIT, Sept. 7.--While Rev. David B. Cooper, pastor of the Memorial Presbyterian church, was in his study at his home on Jefferson avenue, a caller, who gave his mame as Mr. Wilkinson, was announced. He desired a private interview with the reverend gentleman, which was accorded him. In five minutes the family were startled by hearing a struggle and cries of "murder," mingled with entreaties for help. Frank P. Boughton, who was in the house, rushed to Mr. Cooper's assistance and found him struggling desperately with the stranger, who was try-ing to use a revolver. Wilkinson fired the revolver once, the ball grazing one of Mr. Cooper's fingers and narrowly misssum of money from him which, being refused, caused the stranger to attack him.

Unjust Criticism.

Mr. Ray Taber thinks he was unjustly criticised relative to the fire at Houghs Neck last week. He worked hard to supply the chemical engine with water, and left it wholly with others to remove furniture, etc. Therefore, the statements that the last damaged furniture and crockery in the possess of hundreds of millions of dollars were specified. They existed by thousands throughout the United States. Whenever one of them failed, the result was a large loss and great distress among the people. No one was responsible for their bills, and they were generally found scattered in the pockets of the laboring man, to whom they were a total loss, without any redemption whatever. Of the state banks it was often and truly said that their debts were the measure of their profits. They have caused an aggregate loss of hundreds of millions of dollars.

THE POET'S LIFE.

The Modest and Simple Story Told by Himself Some Years Ago.

And while in life's late afternoon,
Where cool and long the shadows grow,
I walk to meet the night that soon
Shall shape and shadow overflow.
I cannot feel that thou art far,
Since near at hand the angels are;
And when the sunset gates unbar.
Shall I not see thee waiting stand,
And white against the evening star.

The story of Mr. Whittier's life is a very brief and a very simple one. He was born in the beautiful Merrimac valley, five miles out from the market town of Haverhill Mose Dec. 7, 1807. At his primative homestead all things were elementary and of the plainest cast. Both his parents were Quakers, and his amoesters on both sides nad belonged to the Society of Friends for many generations. John Whittier, the father of the poet, is described Whittier, the father of the poet, is described the send out loving greetings to old the send out loving greeting the send out loving greeting the send out loving greeting the send out loving the send out loving greeting the send out loving and send out loving greeting the send out loving th Whittier, the father of the poet, is described by citizens of Haverhill as having been a rough, but upright, kind-hearted farmer. His neighbors gave him the nickname "Quaker Whycher." He seems to have been a sturdy, decided person, and deeply religious.

Apropos of his boyhood, we are told that Whittier, even when a little lad, was always Whittier, even when a little lad, was always writing verses instead of doing sums on his slate in school. The reading material that came into his father's house consisted of the almanac and the weekly village newspaper, with perhaps a score of books and pamphlets, among them Lindley Murray's "Reader" and Ellwood's "Davideis, or the Life of David, King of Israel." There was Nothing to Learn of the Outer World except from the eccentric and often pic-turesque stroller, who in those days peddled, turesque stroner, who in those days peddled, sang or fiddled from village to village. Yet the boy's poetic fancy and native sense of rhythm apparently were not inert. He listened eagerly to the provincial traditions and legends—a genuine folk-lore recounted by his elders at the fireside—and he began to put his thought in numbers at the garliest age. thought in numbers at the carliest age. Of his early literary aspirations and the events which moulded his thoughts and guided his pen in after years, no better ac-count can be given than the story told by himself some years ago:

"When I was 14 years old my first schoolmaster, Joshua Coffin, the able, eccentric historian of Newbury, brought with him to our house a volume of Burns' peems, from which he read, greatly to my delight. I begged him to leave the book with me, and set myself at once to the task of mastering the glossary of the Scotch dialect at its close. This was about the first poetry I had ever read—with the exception of that of the Bible, of which I had been a close student—and it had a lasting influence upon me. I began to make rhymes the old man out. When Wright passed through the doorway, Judah fired at him with a pistol, but the shot did not take efmyself, and to imagine stories and adventures, In fact, I and in a world of fancy, as well as in the world of plain matter-of-fact about me. "Soon after Garrison came to our farmhouse, and I was called in from hoeing in the cornfield to see him. He encouraged me, and urged my father to send me to school. I longed for education, but the means to procure it were wanting. Luckily, the young man who worked for us on the farm eked out his small in-come by making ladies' shoes and slippers in the winter; and I learned enough of him to earn a sum sufficient to carry me through a term of six months in the Haverhill academy. The next winter I ventured upon

"My father always had a weekly newspaper, and when young Garrison started his Free Press at Newburyport, he took it in place of the Haverhill Gazette. My sister, who was two the Haverhill Gazette. My sister, who was two years older than myself, sent one of my poetical attempts to the editor. Some weeks afterward the newscarrier came along on horseback and threw the paper out from his saddlebags. My uncle and I were heading fences. I took up the sheet, and was surprised and overjoyed to see my lines in the 'poet's corner.' I stood gazing at them in wonder, and my uncle had to call me several times to my work before I could recover myself.

The game over and the players cooled off, they were bundled into a special car and, under the skilful manipulation of Dan, were soon on their way to Quincy Point. The ride down was uneventful, the principal conversation being, if this and that had been different the result would have been different. Of course no one disputed this, yet the fact remains that the Invincibles were wrongly named.

Arriving at the Pine Point House, Caerer Nash soon had them seated at a long table loaded down with good things, such Clarence Bergen is acting as cashier of the as chicken, lobster salad, roast beef, pota Mt. It was very evident that something troubled him, yet what it was could not be surmised until he quietly asked who won puzzled to know to whom he should render his bill.

by the Indians.

Let the Way be Simple and the Remedy Safe.

If you are ailing, not exactly sick, but not eeling "just right," have a drowsy, dull feeling, bad taste in the mouth, variable appetite, occasional pains in the joints and muss, and other signs of impending sickness, y do you not do as the Indian does—drive the symptoms out of the system by the judious use of their vegetable remedy? Don't neglect such warnings.

That pain in your shoulder may develop into rheumatism, and a month's sickness de-prive you of the income of your toil.

That furry tongue denotes your liver is out of order, and typhoid fever would easily take ot in your system. What could you do then?

GREENFIELD, Mass., Sept. 9.—The dead body of Abigail Rogers, aged 58 years, was found yesterday in her one-room house on woman had been murdered. She was last seen alive last Saturday afternoon. At times she worked for the Orang Knitting company, whose mill is at Farley, and it was through a son of E. C. Tolman of that company that the murder was discovered. Mrs. Rogers had some yarn belonging to the company, which she was to knit, and Wednesday Mr. Tolman went to her house, which is merely a shanty. The door was unlocked and a pile of bedcloth-ing and rags were on the floor. As he saw nothing of the woman he returned to the mill, but yesterday he sent his son to the house with orders to search for the yarn or the knit goods, if he failed to find the Dend Rody of William Scott Found Bushes Near Houlton, Me.

HOULTON, Me., Sept. 9. — Two boys twenty-three miles from Houlton, discov ered the body of a man beside a log. They notified the Edwards selectmen, and H. G. White, chairman, after satisfying himself that it was a case of foul play, inasmuch as the man's head and face were smashed abrooks of Fort Fairfield, who drove Dyer Brook to view the body From the evidence obtained the man is believed to be William Scott of Cary or Glenwood, who had worked on the Bangor and Arcostock railroad for W. O. Johnson, contractor, three whole and two half days, leaving Aug. 27 on account of trouble with the boss of the crew.

A memorandum book found on the body was identified by Johnson, and contained memoranda of work done and time of leaving. A hat and a bundle containing a gray shirt and a pair of socks were found light shoes and a watch were picked up in the bushes near the road, supposed to belong to the murdered man.

From the appearance of the grass and bushes beside the road, it is thought that the man met his death in the highway being struck with a club or stone, and was afterward dragged or carried to the place where he was found.

At the time Scott left work a man, calling himself Flynn, left with him and went to work on the railroad for Contractor O'Neill, boarding with Daniel Cookson Since the finding of the body he has acted strangely, and yesterday paid his board and left hurriedly. The remains were buried at Dyer Brook. The jury will render a verdict soon.

SUDDEN DEATH OF PASTOR.

Rev. John Ramsay of Presbyterian Church Succumbs to Typhoid Eever.

Rev. John Ramsay, pastor of the Presbyterian church, South Quincy, died at his residence on Liberty street, Thursday evening, at about 10 o'clock, in his 26th year, after a brief illness of typhoid fever.

Mr. Ramsay had been enjoying a brief vacation with relations at Cambridge. He complained of not feeling well, but thought Tuesday morning our public schools will be opened again. This, no doubt, will be regarded in the experience of the children, as a serious event. Sewerage Assessments.

The city council of Newton has a spe al meeting this evening to consider an rdinance for sewer construction. The raft provides that the whole of the averige cost of the system of sewers, which has already been determined and found to equal two dollars and fifty-six cents per running foot, shall be assessed according to law, provided that no estate shall be assessed until it can be drained into the sewer; and no estate shall be assessed more than once for the same benefit. The assessments shall be determined as follows: Twenty-five per cent. of the benefit or cost to be paid by the city; thirty-five per cent. per front foot on the street through which the sewer is laid; seven mills per square foot for each foot of area extending back one hundred and eighty feet from the street in which the common sewer is laid, provided that upon corner lots the first sixty feet of frontage upon the second street in which the sewer is constructed shall be and the lessening of the supply through exempt, and no area assessed upon the the failure of the best crop abroad. The in which the sewer is constructed shall be first street shall be assessed on the second street. Notable Advance in the Wholesale

Rates in the Past Few Days. BOSTON, Sept. 9.—There has been a sharp and steady advance in the price of sugar since Aug. 27, when dealers' prices were from $4.87 1-2 to $4.94 per hundred pounds. On Sept. 2 the price bounded up to from $5 to $5.07 and now it is $5.18 to $5.25, with a fair prospect of going still higher. So rapid has been the advance that since it started it was forced ahead twice the same day. Different causes are assigned for this, such as the cholera making a panicky market consumer who has to pay the penalty may be so unkind as to think that neither is

Time Incense. There has recently been added to the collection of folk objects in the museum package of incense, the use of which survives in the rural districts of China for the purpose of measuring time. It is called kong keung, or "clock incense, the word kong being our familiar English word "gong," which we got from the Chinese. It is used by the watchman, whose watch at night is divided into five parts. Five of these sticks are burned during the night, and they are shortened by breaking them off in accordance with the seasons. This incens was purchased at a Chinese shop in Philadelphia, and is another curious instance of primitive survivals among these interesting people.—Philadelphia Ledger.

from Hoffman island: "All well with the ships but the Scandia. She has 981 steerage passengers. The Scandia is full of cholera. She has had a total of thirty-two deaths on the voyage, including twentynine in the steerage, two in the second cabin and one in the first cabin."

The feelings of those on the ships that have been detained below for a week, this morning when they see the transfer boat speeding to and fro between Swinburne island to the Scandia, may be better imag ined than described. The moving tug tells a story, the horror of which is increased ten-fold, because they cannot know the exact truth. That the Scandia is all that has been feared, no one will deny. Dr. Jenkins was awakened to receive the news and give it to the few newspaper men stirring. Others in bed were soon summoned in haste to send the grievous tidings to their papers. PLANS FOR CO-OPERATION.

New York Chamber of Commerce Has Become Deeply Interested.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.-A special meet ing of the chamber of commerce was held for the purpose of tendering to the state and city authorities the co-operation of the chambar in preserving the city from the ravages of cholera, and especially to emphasize the importance of the prompt removal of all passengers from the stricken ships. Secretary of the Treasury Foster was in attendance, and Alexander E. Orr presided.

Seth Low offered a series of resolutions, which were adopted. These commended in keeping cholera out of the city; deploring the necessary precaution of keeping passengers and crews confined on board the stricken vessels for almost a with full authority to arrest all disorweek while the cholera continued its deadly work in their midst; places on record the chamber's hearty appreciation under what is known as the "workhouse" record the chamber's hearty appreciation of the energetic effort of the federal government, the state authorities at fines or jail sentences, they will be sent to quarantine and the health department of Claremont.

The resolutions also declare that in the udgment of the chamber, humanity demands the immediate removal from stricken vessels of all persons whose duty does not compel them to remain aboard, and that the Spit off Sandy Hook is in every respect the most suitable place for a quarantine camp in this emergency; that tary. They will visit all the dioceses in the chamber has learned with satisfaction that the use of Sandy Hook has been granted by the United States authorities, and provide for the appointment of a committee to co-operate with the authorities, both state and national, i every possible

Samuel D. Paddock spoke against the removal of the passengers to another steamboat and favored their being sent to some place like Fire island or Sandy Hook. Ex-Secretary of the Treasury Charles S. Fairchild said we had a right to keep these passengers quarantined for a time,

No Right to Imperil Their Lives. J. Howard Simmons was opposed to transferring the passengers to Sandy Hook, because it was a cold, barren waste, out favored sending them to Fire island. Secretary Foster said the government stood ready to do anything possible to prevent the invasion or infection, and also to relieve the people detained on the infected ships. It had tendered what aid it could give to effect both purposes. He was in favor of removing the passengers to Sandy Hook, as it had been recommended by eminent medical authorities. A camp and hospital could be established there. The It is thought he murdered the old woman New Jersey Central railroad had offered to rebuild its road to that place, and telegraph lines there would be rebuilt. Austin Corbin had promised to have temporary houses erected there in two days. The government did not attempt to stop at any question of expense, and he would employ all the resources at his command to carry out all the steps that might be necessary to secure safety and comfort. President Low said he wanted it to go out to the world that the chamber did not wish to provide for the cabin passengers alone. They were equally solicitous for the steerage passengers and crews. Vice President Orr assured Secretary Foster, in of the government.

The following is the committee appointed in accordance with the resolution: Seth Low, Samuel D. Babcock, J. Pierpont Morgan and Austin Corbin.

A telegram received from Health Officer Jenkins was referred to the committee. It appealed to the city through the chamber for some place to which it can remove the passengers detained at lower quarantine, and stated that every hour imperilled an Editor, is Missing.

Boston, Sept. 10.—The entryway of the house 80 Fayette street was the scene of a shooting affray between Elijah Stewart and J. Gordon Street about 9:45 o'clock last night. Tht shooting was the outcome of trouble over a woman, and all the parties are colored, Street being the editor and proprietor of the Boston Republican, "the organ of the colored people.

So near as can be ascertained, Stewart has not been living with his wife for some time, and she has been in the employ of Street, at his newspaper office. Last night she is said to have taken a number of his papers home with her to the house No. 80 Fayette street to put them in wrappers for mailing.

Shortly after 9 o'clock Street went to the house, as the landlady says, in a great hurry, and was standing in the room near the table when Stewart, who was evidently tracking him, rang the bell and asked to see his wife.

She met him in the entry and had a few minutes' talk. He then asked if Street was there, and receiving an affirmative answer asked to see him. His wife called Street, and as he entered the entry Stewart drew a revolver and fired at Street, who, clapping his hand to his side, said to Stewart's wife: "I'm afraid I am shot."

The landlady opened the door, and pushed Stewart out. As she did so Street

An Object Lesson Taught by the Indians.

Let the Way be Simple and the Remedy Safe.

If you are ailing, not exactly sick, but not feeling "just right," have a drowsy, dull feeling, bad taste in the mouth, variable appetite, occasional pains in the joints and mustice, occasional pains in the joints and must cles, and other signs of impending sickness, why do you not do as the Indian does—drive such symptoms out of the system by the judicious use of their vegetable remedy?

Don't neglect such warnings.

That pain in your shoulder may develop into rheumatism, and a month's sickness deprive you of the income of your toil.

That furry tongue denotes your liver is out of order, and typhoid fever would easily take root in your system.

What could you do then?

Think of your business, your income, and

Think of your business, your income, and your family. Seek safety as you would fly from cholera

or smallpox.

You are in danger if you neglect these warnings. They may pass off, but the chances are against you, and even then the poison is only latent in your system.

Do not, however, put your trust in the numerous so-called "sarsaparillas" with which the market is flooded. Sarsaparilla bark is not a medicine, it is a flavoring, nothing more. The action of many of these decoctions comes from the mineral poisons they contain, such as mercury, arsenic, strychnine, bismuth, iodide of potassium, and the like, and any druggist will tell you, if he tells you truly, that this is so. Kickapoo Indian Sagawa and other Kickapo Indian medicines contain only the product of the field and forest, nature's own vegetab growth of roots, barks and herbs, and of necessity are free from all mineral poisons whatever, depending wholly upon nature's laboratory for their resources, and upon their skill, born of centuries of experience, in preparing them.

Kickapoo Indian Sagawa, made by the In nans from roots, barks and herbs of their ow, athering and curing, is obtainable of an ruggist at one dollar per bottle; six bottles for we dollar.

FREE Send three two-cent stamps to pay postage; and we will mail you free a thrilling and interesting book of 173 pages, entitled "Life and Scenes Among the Kickapoo Indians." QUEBEC TOWN BURNED OUT.

Hundred Dwellings Are Burned and Many Families Are Made Homeless. QUEBEC, Sept. 10 .- About four o'clock yesterday afternoon a barn at the east end of Hedleyville, across the river from here, took fire. In a moment the whole building was ablaze and, fanned by a fresh northeast breeze, the flames reached an adjacant house, which also took fire and spread with frightful rapidity. At five o'clock twelve houses were blazing and still the fire was gaining headway. Hundreds of men from this city, 200 men from the French frigate Arethusa and 200 men from H. M. S. fassachusetts Easily Leads in the Number of Churches and Communicants.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The census office has issued a bulletin giving statistics of the Congregational churches. The returns show that this church has 4868 organizations, 4736 church edifices valued at $43, 835,437, and 512,771 communicants. These statistics also show that Massachusetts, where the Pilgrims and Puritans estab-lished churches of the Congregational order early in the seventeenth century, is still the stronghold of Congregationalism. It has in that state nearly 102,000 mem-bers. In Connecticut, which comes second, there are 59,154, and in New York. 45,686. In the six New England states the aggregate of Congregational strength is nearly 230,000, which is about 45 per cent. of the whole number of members in the Copeland Street, and his carriers.

NINE DEATHS HAVE RESULTED.

Many Others Are Seriously Injured and Some May Die,

BOSTON, Sept. 12.-Nine dead, twentysix injured, two dying. That is the story of a railway horror at the West Cambridge Boston at 10:15 p. m. An express train followed on the same rails at thirty miles an hour. The passenger train waited a few minutes at West Cambridge to cross an incoming accommodation.

The night was thick with fog. The standing train should have been protected with hoisting apparatus the wrecked cars by signal lanterns displayed 200 yards in its rear. It is stated that Brakeman Noon was sent back to flag the freight. There was only one man who could have seen his danger signal. That man, Driver Goodwin, in the engine of the freight-says he saw none. He thought the rails clear, and thundered on at thirty miles an hour. His engine plunged into and almost through the rear passenger coach of the

One woman and four men were dead and terribly mangled when, after long and heroic efforts, the rescuers reached them. One woman and three men died from their injuries after removal to the Cambridge hospital.

Several are now at death's door. The extent of the injuries in some other cases cannot yet be told by the surgeons. The scene was one of almost unparal-leled horror. Words fail when eye-witnesses would describe what they saw in and around the telescoped car. The scene in the morgue-depot was marked by a display of heroism only to be appreciated by those who labored there and felt its sublimity.

Impossible to See Fifty Feet. The brakeman of the rear car was sent back to protect the train. His duty was to go far enough back to signal any train coming from Boston, and so render telescoping impossible.

The stop at West Cambridge was less than six minutes, probably four. It is, therefore, a question whether or not the brakeman had time to go back far enough to make his signal effective, retrace his steps and still catch his own train before it pulled out.

Meantime express freight No. 207, with thirty heavily laden cars, was thundering along from Boston at thirty miles an hour. The rear car of the standing train was near the station. It was only there that there was any light, and even there it was impossible to see except at close quarters, so thick was the fog.

Just as the passenger train began to pull out the fast freight Crashed Into Its Rear Coach.

AN ACREEMENT.

Reported Between Manufacturers and Cutters.

Say They Don't Understand It.

They Didn't Know Mr. Batterson Had Authority to Make Settlement,

Everybody is Hoping That the Trouble Is at an End—The Terms.

Boston dailies report a settlement between the New England Granite Manufacturers' Association and the Granite Cutters' National Union. The following is from the Journal:

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 11.-Hon. J. G. Batterson of Hartford, Conn., acting in behalf of the Executive Committee of the New England Granite Manufacturers' Association, was in conference yesterday and last night with the full board of officers of the National Granite Cutters' Union on the subject of a settlement of the existing labor trouble. The conference was an entirely pleasant one, the nine members of the Executive Committee of the National Cutters' Union being in attendance. The parties had no difficulty in reaching an agreement upon all points that came within the authority of the officers of the National Cutters' Union.

There are other matters which will have to be settled with the local unions before he cutters will return to work.

Mr. Batterson is not hopeful of a settlement with local unions at present. As regards Mr. Batterson's works in Concord the local union demands that two foremen and two apprentices shall be turned over to the local union, which claim the right to settle the status of these four workmen before the union workmen will return to work. Mr. Batterson says that he will not make such a disposition of the foremer and apprentices, for, if he did, he would be have to arrest under the law of Congress on the ground of conspiracy against

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Rev. I. W. Sneath Pays Tribute to the Late Rev. Mr. Ramsav.

Sunday was a sad day for the Presbyterian Church of South Quincy. The church has had a severe grief-indeed the city mourns the loss, but those that worship in this church, now in mourning, will feel the loss more keenly.

Mr. Galbraith, at the morning service, occupied the pulpit, which was draped in mourning. After the congregation had sung the grand hymn by Stowell:

"From every stormy wind that blows, From every swelling tide of wees, There is a calm, a sure retreat; 'Tis found beneath the mercy-seat.'

Mr. Galbraith preached an impressive sermon, taking as his text, "Jesus wept." At the evening service the church was crowded. The Rev. I. W. Sneath of Cambridge preached an eloquent memorial sermon. He gave a summary of the career of Mr. Ramsay with a true and appreciative word-picture of his character. The sermon will appear in Saturday's PATRIOT.

She has at least the melancholy comfort of having seen the last resting place of her beloved son.

During the interval between morning and evening service many of the friends of the departed young pastor paid a visit to his grave. Men and women, old, young, went to show their love and sympathy, and among those who laid flowers on the grave may be mentioned one young boy of twelve who went alone and laid a bouquet of flowers on the grave of his beloved pastor. To his friends in Glasgow,-his beloved parents, brother and sisters, as well as his many friends in the Cranstonhill and Martyrs' Free churches it will be a comfort to know that Mr. Ramsay has condensed into his brief life in Quincy a high record of Christian manhood. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.-A special dispatch to The Ledger from St. Johns, N. F., says: The Kite has arrived here from North Greenland, whence she sailed on Aug. 24. On board are the entire Peary relief expedition in good health, with Lieutenant and Mrs. Peary and party, except John M. Vorhoff, who, it is believed lost his life shortly after the return of Austin & Winslow's express office, 52 Peary from the inland ice by falling into the crevasse of a glacier at the head of Roberts Sound bay, a body of water ad-joining McCormick bay, while on an expedition of his own to a neighboring Eskimo settlement.

Notwithstanding a persistent search for several days, Mr. Verhoff's body was not found. There were abundant traces of his having gone on the glacier and none of his having crossed it. John M. Verhoff came from Louisville, and was about 25 years old. He had been a student at Yale. Big Cunarder and a Sailing Ship Have a Rather Close Shave. QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 12.-The Cunard line steamship Servia, from New York, reports that at 3 a. m. on the 6th inst., while she was going at slow speed, owing to a dense fog, the look-out suddenly espied the dim outlines of a sailing vessel just ahead. The signal to reverse the steamer's engines was instantly given and obeyed, but the two vessels were so close to each other that it was impossible to check even the slight speed before they had come together.

The sailing vessel was the ship Undaunted, from Shields for New York. The hull of the vessel received a sliding blow. The Servia was soon stopped and remained on the spot for some hours. After much difficulty, owing to the fog, she was enabled to communicate with the Undaunted. The latter had not been damaged and was in need of no assistance.

The Servia also escaped undamaged. A passenger on the Servia says that fine J. A. S. ADMIRAL WALKER'S DELICATE MISSION Carriage

Is Thought to Be One of Great International Importance.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.-The cruisers Chitago and Philadelphia left the navy yard at 2 o'clock yesterday, bound for La Guayra, Venezuela, under sealed orders.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.-There are good reasons for believing that sealed instructions, which were yesterday delivered to Admiral Walker on board the Chicago, entrusted him with a mission more im portant, perhaps, than any that has been confided to an American naval officer in recent years.

The conference which President Harrison had with Acting Secretary of State Adee on his recent visit to Washington; the long consultation between Secretary of the Navy Tracy and Mr. Adee Saturday, before General Walker's instructions were finally agreed upon; the carefully worded statement given out that Admiral Walker was "directed to pursue a vigorous course in dealing with the situation, esgression;" all take on new signifi cance on the supposition believed to be well founded that Admiral Walker's mis sion to La Guayra with his squadron will be to proffer the friendly intervention of the United States to the Venezuelan County,-P. J. Kelley, Michael Moriarty, authorities, whoever they may be by the Venezuelan territory by Great Britain and further to secure the restoration of the status quo as to boundaries as it existed prior to 1877 and to obtain consent for the submission to arbitration of the question of title to the territory in dispute between the two governments. The Key Note of the whole expedition is to be found in the following extract from a dispatch addressed to Mr. Blaine before his resigna-tion of the state department portfolio, by Mr. Peraza, the Venezuelan minister to Washington:

Washington:

The honorable Mr. Blaine is already aware that agents of the government of Great Britain have taken possession, unduly and forcibly, of the port of Barima, at the mouth of the Orinoco, which up to that time had been possessed by Venezuela, whose title to it was undisputable. It is only necessary to cast a glance at the map of South America in order to see the vast importance of this aggressive step of Great Britain.

When a European maritime power has once obtained a foothold at Barima, it absolutely controls the Orinoco river and its numerous affluents. Through that artery it may pene-trate as far as the river Rio de la Platte. Ven-ezuela is, therefore, not the only American Republic that is at the mercy of the naval power that gets control of the Orinoco river. Colombia, Peru, Bolivia, Brazil, the Argentine Republic and Uruguay are likewise at its mercy.

This is not the danger which threatens Venezuela alone; it threatens all America, and is, perhaps, more serious than the posses-sion of the Panama canal by a European power, since it would render nugatory the efforts which, through the initiative of the United States government, are now being made by the nections of America to draw close their family bonds, to unify the interests and of that river and would carry to the great centres of population her productions, he ideas and her exclusive inter Mr. Peraza, on behalf of the Venezuelan government, earnestly and almost pathetically begged the United States govern ment to intervene, to prevent the republic from final disruption, and to secure the submission to arbitration of the questions in dispute with Great Britain. The restoration of diplomatic relations between Ven ezuela and Great Britain has recently been brought about through the good offices of Minister Lincoln, during the closing days of the Salisbury government, but there British Concessions Stopped. As our minister to Venezuela subsequently reported: "The vital point in dispute, namely, the command of the great outh of the Orinoco, is precisely the one which Great Britain refuses to submit to friendly arbitration." It may be that, with a powerful United States squadron in the harbor of La Guayra, under the command of an admiral specially instructed to aid and as sist to the full extent of his power. Venezuela may be able to renew the overtures for arbitration to better purpose.

A HOME RUN IN GROCERIES.

Our groceries score a home run every time. In this case, rivalry is out of the question. We are ahead in the extent and variety of our stock, the superior quality of our goods, the prompt and reliable service given to our customers, and-no, there's one point in which we are not ahead-in prices, in that respect we're away behind; we sell everything at ock-bottom figures. Low prices keep our stock in motion and leave nothing to get stagnant or stale. Look at our customers and you will conclude that our groceries are all right.

Do not forget that we carry a full line of FRUIT, and also are the only agents for ONFIDENCE FLOUR.

TAKE WARNING!

NEGLECT NOT THE SIGNALS OF

An Object Lesson Taught by the Indians.

Let the Way be Simple and the Remedy Safe.

If you are ailing, not exactly sick, but not feeling "just right," have a drowsy, dull feeling, bad taste in the mouth, variable appetite, occasional pains in the joints and muscles, and other signs of impending sickness, why do you not do as the Indian does—drive such symptoms out of the system by the judicious use of their vegetable remedy?

Don't neglect such warnings. That pain in your shoulder may develop into rheumatism, and a month's sickness derive you of the income of your toil.

That furry tongue denotes your liver is out of order, and typhoid fever would easily take root in your system.

What could you do then?

Think of your business, your income, and your family. Seek safety as you would fly from cholera

or smallpox.

You are in danger if you neglect these warnings. They may pass off, but the chances are against you, and even then the poison is only latent in your system.

Do not, however, put your trust in the numerous so-called "sarsaparillas" with which the market is flooded. Sarsaparilla bark is not a medicine, it is a flavoring, nothing more. The action of many of these decoctions comes from the mineral poisons they contain, such as mercury, arsenic, strychnine, ing more. The action of many of these decor-tions comes from the mineral poisons they contain, such as mercury, arsenic, strychnine, bismuth, iodide of potassium, and the like, and any druggist will tell you, if he tells you truly, that this is so.

LATE FIGURES FROM MAINE TOWNS.

Connecticut Democrats Nominate Luzon B. Morris for Governor.

Boston, Sept. 14.—The Republicans of vention for the nomination of a state o'clock today by Eben S. Draper, chairman of the state committee, and the call was read by A. C. Ratchesky, the secretary of the convention, Hon. Charles H. Allen of Lowell is presiding over the convention and Eiihu B. Hayes of Lynn is chairman of the committee on resolutions. Lieutenant Governor William H. Haile will be nominated for governor. The real contest of the day will be upon nominating a candidate for second place on the ticket. There are four candidates in the field-Hon. Roger Wolcott of Boston, Hon. Francis W. Breed of Lynn, Captain J. G. B. Adams of Lynn, and Samuel C. Dar-ling of Somerville. The remainder of the state ticket will be the same as at present. The Platform endorses the national ticket and platform especially the protection and reciprocity planks, demands free public schools, free public libraries and good public roads and a caucus by the Republicans in the legislature to nominate a candidate for United States senator. The last plank did not disturb Speaker Barrett a bit. He talked treasurer, S. P. Nolan; also presidential with every one he knew in the most pleas-ant manner imaginable, and was introduced to a great many more.

Ex-Governor Robinson made the speech nominating Mr. Haile for governor. The nominating speech for Wolcott was made by Mon. W. C. Lovering of Taunton, sec-onded by Hon. Timothy G. Spalding of Nexthampton. Governor Brackett, seconded by Walter Clifford of New Bedford, spoke for Breed, and ex-Representative William B. Strout of Worcester for Adams. Rev. A. E. Winship nominated Congressional Nominations Henry Cabot Lodge was renominated for congress by the Rapublicans of the Seventh district. Hon. Elijah A. Morse and Hon. Joseph H. Walker were similarly honored in the Twelth and Third districts respectively. Republicans of the new Fifth named W. S. Knox for congressional honors, and L. D. Apsley was selected by Fourth district Republicans.

PLURALITY OF 12,000.

First Reports of Maine's Election Found to be Nearly Correct.

Lewiston, Me., Sept.14.—The Journal has returns from 263 Maine towns. They give Cleaves 51,772, Johnson 41,745, Hussey 2038, Bateman 1495. Republican plurality, 10,027. These towns two years ago gave the Republicans 49,096; Democrats, 33,679; Prohibition party, 2037; Republican plu-

The remaining towns two years ago gave over 3000 additional Republican plurality. Thus far the towns report a Republican plurality of about 70 per cent. of what they gave two years ago. If this ratio holds good in the remaining towns the Republican plurality will be about 12,000.

Manley's Telegram. AUGUSTA, Me., Sept.14.-Chairman Manley of the Republican state committee telegraphs Chairman Carter of the national committee as follows:

Our victory is growing. We have elected pur-governor by over 12,000 plurality over the Democratic candidate. Have carried every county in the state. Have four-fifths of the members of the legislature, and the vote on gressmen gives us 14,000 plurality.

CONNECTICUT DEMOCRATS.

What can she do, where can she go, so long as that deadly backache saps every particle of her strength and ambition?

She cannot walk, she cannot stand; her housework is a burden; the hours behind the counter or in the factory are crushing; she is miserable.

The cause is some derangement of the uterus or womb. The backache is the sure symptom.

Normannia's Passengers Safely Landed on Fire Island.

SORROW GIVES WAY TO HAPPINESS.

Governor Flower's Sharp Rebuke to the Men of Islip.

Babylon, L. I., Sept. 14.—From all indications in this place, the bay men's little war is over. D. S. S. Sammis, late proprietor of the Surf Hotel, Fire island, was interviewed here last evening. He asserted that the opposition to establishing a landing of the passengers from the Cepheus is to the effect that Sheriff Darling of Suffolk county, upon hearing of Governor that it was best to give up the fight before the naval reserves or the troops reached here. Consequently when the Cepheus approached the landing pier in the afternoon he turned to the guard of baymen

The Question of the Tariff.

The Democratic party has, with all the so-emnity and deliberation of which it is capable, taken its position on the platform of free trade pure and simple. On that platform it will not have the company of the American people, and least of all the people of Massacht

The Democracy tells for once what it stands or, the label for once indicates the character the goods. On that great question what is claration of the Democratic party? his: "We denounce Republican protection a fraud, a robbery of the great majority of American people for the benefit of the . We declare it to be a fundamental neiple of the Democratic party that the eral government has no constitution. eral government has no constitutional ver to enforce and collect tariff duties exor the purposes of revenue only, and mand the collection of such taxes shall be limited to the necessities of the government, honestly and economically administered." That is it, in all its unblushing frankness. And that is the principle the Democratic party expects the people of the United States to indorse with their votes. Well, they will not do it. This peculiar plank was adopted by the Chi-convention by an emphatic vote. The ommittee's plank was rejected, 564 to 362, so at a resolution that boldly favors free trade as the expressed fundamental princi

The 8th of November will show that they do not.

The Republican Side.

Now, what is the Republican announcement on this fundamental question? The platform adopted at Minneapolis declares: "We affirm the American doctrine of protection. We call attention to its growth abroad. We maintain that the propagate condition of our country that the prosperous condition of our country That Time is Now.

The Democracy, by its official utterance, does not even recognize the expediency of incidental protection as a concomitant of a revuent of the common of t enue duty.

Protection for Our Own Industries.

But nobody is deceived by this defense. People are too well informed nowadays; they have learned too much of the sophistries of "independent" defense during the past two or three years here in Massachusetts, for instance, to be misled by any such attenuated reasoning. They know perfectly well that every dollar of the necessary revenue could be raised without any duty on manufactures.

Republicans believe in a protective tariff that protects. The issue is plainly defined. It there, it is only to say that it is the production that protects. The issue is plainly defined. If any citizen is indifferent to the prosper-ty of the nation he will vote for Democratic candidates. If he is solicitous for the wel-fare of this great country and has studied the position of the two great parties with respect to their attitude on the economical questions which affect him, it would be almost inconceivable that he should not east his lot and his vote with the party which exists solely to promote that welfare. A new star has risen in the pugilistic heavens. The conquerer is conquered, and John Lawrence Sullivan has only a name to fall back on. To say that the excitement concerning the Corbett-Sullivan fight was mark the encampment will be a reunion residence on Grand View avenue, Wollasntense is but limiting the expression down to the minimum. Everybody was interested. Men, women and children were imbued with the elixir of pugilistic science; it turned epidemic, and has not quieted down yet. I say women were interested in it, because I happened to overhear some of their expressions, and I must confess that some of them were rather forcible ones.

The day after the memorable fight in question, an elderly lady got off one of the trains at the depot, and the first salutation that she greeted the conductor who helped her to alight was, "Faith, and Sullivan ost the fight didn't he?" "He did," re marked the conductor. "Pon my word if ne got one crack at the other lad's head he would have levelled him," soliloquized the good old dame. "If" replied the man with brass buttons, accenting the if. "Aye if" superadded la femine, "but sure it's the ifs thats running the country," and she made her way through the mad-

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 16.—About 7000 people gathered in Hampden park to see the first day's races of the Springfield Bicycle club's tournament. Good time was made in every event. The mile invitation race, in which eight of the fastest riders of the country took part, developed a great surprise, both Tyler and Windle reaching the tape before Zimmerman, who was apparently not in the best condition. The field in this event was beautifully bunched all the way to the home stretch,

NOTHING ABOUT APPRENTICES.

No Change to be Made Concerning

The announcement in Thursday's LED-GER that a meeting was to be held that afternoon between the Manufacturers' Committee and a committee from the granite cutters was a surprise to many of the manufacturers and men themselves so quiet was the matter kept, and several expressed their opinion that it was only a bluff and that no meeting was to be held.

Our experience under that system of money will be realled by thousands and hundreds of thousands of the people through the country, and no man who has had any experience with it will want to return to it. It means local money instead of national money; it means that each state in the Union shall have money of its own, issued by state authority and under such regulations and with such security as the several legislatures may determine. It means that our money shall be confined to state lines, which will interrupt and disarrange the interstate com merce of the country. GENERAL DUDLEY'S POSITION.

Will Heartily Support the Republican Ticket and Work for the Party. Washington, Sept. 16.-The Post today oublishes an interview with General W W. Dudley of Indiana, in the course of which he says, replying to statements made that he was indifferent as to the result of the campaign:

Never, in all my political experience, have I regarded the issues between the political parties to be of greater importance than in this campaign. The result of the elections this year may fix, for many decades to come, governmental policies in important direction Therefore, it becomes every man who believes in the principles of the Republican party, to do all that may lay in his power that the Re-publican ticket shall be elected.

The time for the discussion of candidates ceased with the closing of the Minneapolis convention. The candidates selected by that convention were chosen with due regard to all the time-honored forms of the Republican party. In no particular can it be said, either in the personnel of the ticket, nor the manner of its selection, that any Republican can find of its selection, that any Republican can find an excuse for apathy or indifference. The principles of the Republican party are the heritage of all Republicans. A principle worth believing in is worth fighting for.

I have never felt a greater desire for the success of the Republican party than now, and should deem it a calamity if, by a mischance, or by a lack of energetic conversion.

chance, or by a lack of energetic co-operation on the part of any Republican, the Demo-crats should again acquire the control of the government. I shall give the ticket and the platform my hearty support, and, in a quiet way, do what I can to aid in the success of my party. QUARTERLY REVIEW.

LESSON XII, THIRD QUARTER, INTER-NATIONAL SERIES, SEPT. 18.

Review of the Lessons of the Third Quarter-The Spirit Working Through the Apostles-Commentary by the Rev. D.

LESSON I.—Topic, "The Ascension of Christ" (Acts i, 1-12). Golden text, "When He had spoken these things, while they beheld He was taken up, and a cloud reeived Him out of their sight" (Acts i, 9). The Gospels tell what Jesus began to do and teach; the Acts tell what he continued to do and teach through His apostles. They were to rely upon the Holy Spirit as their only power, and their one business was to testify of Jesus. Their joy was time to restore the kingdom to Israel. He will come in person, His saints will meet 'Macaulay's History of England' and 'Gib- Him on the way and return with Him

The physicians no longer conceal their real anxiety at the situation, and practically admit that the case has gone beyond the point where medical or human skill can further avail. In the words of one of the physicians: "While there's life there's for party organization and campaign commit-tees to secure party victory, the fight on Mon-day last was not by our organization or by committees. It was won by the plain people. It was won because our cause was just. It was won because the policy of the Republican party is for the greatest good to the greatest number. It was won because a majority of party is for the greatest good to the greatest number. It was won because a majority of people in Maine believe in protection, reciprocity and honest money. It was won because our candidate for governor had earned the respect and confidence of the people. It was won because the citizens of Maine were determined to indorse in emphatic terms their able and faithful delegation in the congress of the United States. It was won, because the able and faithful delegation in the congress of the United States. Kickapoo Indian Sagwa.

WHY IT IS THE SAFEST TONIC AND BLOOD-PURIFIER MADE,

Indians Have No Knowledge of Mineral Drugs and Poisons-They Cure With the Remedies of the Field and Forest-Their Knowledge is Born of Many Centuries' Experience.

The Kickapoo Indians, who make Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, nature's grand tonic and blood purifier, and other Kickapoo remedies, are the oldest tribe extant. When Columbus discovered America they occupied the territory about where the state of Georgia is now located.

Today, driven back step by step, they are found mostly in Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona, but their traditions have remained ATLANTIC-Cunningham's News Agency intact and the secret of compounding their remedies is known only to themselves and to QUINCY POINT-Post Office. one white man, adopted into the tribe, and through whom they became known to the Kickapoo Indian Sagwa is their principal remedy and and upon it they depend for the curing of all troubles of the stomach and liver, thereby purifying the blood. It is the king among their medicines and their principal reliance for warding off malarial in-fections and all troubles arising from exposure and frequent changes.

Its absolute and, by the nature of the Indian and his lack of knowledge of drugs and poisons, compulsory freedom from all mineral ingredients or drugs in any form, makes it the ideal tonic and blood-purifier that cannot possibly leave behind the after effects so common to many extensively advertised nostrums on the market.

Send three two-cent stamps to pay postage, and we will mail you and interesting book of 173 pages entitled "Life and Scenes Among the Kicka-poo Indians." Tells all about the Indians. Address HEALY & BIGELOW, Distributing Agents, 521 Grand Ave., New Haven, Conn.

I never knew before last Wednesday that George Cahill, the well known politician of Ward Three, was troubled with absentmindedness. He was, however, somewhat troubled that way on the above date. There resides in South Quincy a gentleman who must be in his sixties, and who has held many important offices in Quincy under the town and city form of government. He was at City hall some few weeks ago and told this story. He said he had not been feeling well and finally decided to consult a clairvoyant to see what ailed him. It was not necessary for him to go in person, so he enclosed a lock of his hair in an envelope and sent it to her. In due season he received a reply which somewhat staggered him, for it said there was nothing serious the matter only that he would become a mother in a few weeks.

A bright Quincy miss, evidently not of the marrying kind, upon hearing of the approaching marriage of a school friend, sat down and dashed off the following lines to rid herself of the consequences of neglected duty.

The Quincy bill, he said' provides that no discrimination shall be made by the union against non-union men or apprentices.

PLAIN FACTS

Regarding the Attitude of the Strike. The union men demand the discharge of those men who are working because they are non-union men. Its wrong! Unconstitutional, and wrong in the sight of God and government. Every man should have an opportunity of earning an honest living, and so long as the non-unionist works the same number of hours and receives the same pay as the union men, he is not hurting the trade, and for any one man or society to declare vengence on such a person is an atrocious crime and should be punished as such. The sentiment that eminates from the societies and men who favor striking, is that of Anarchism instead of liberty; they want things their own way or not at all. While there are some sensible ones in the strike yet the number of those who are not wise in their demands far exceeds those

Every one welcome. an increase of over 2000 in membership work asked the union to give them strikers years until those already here become with a decided refusal because they were "Sympathy without relief is like mustard without beef," and these men who are working realizes it. If the union wants every one to strike with them; give them some remuneration to induce them so to do, not resort to threats and animosities as some of their number are doing. They also demand that one apprentice only shall be employed to a gang of twelve men. I pity the poor apprentice that is wanting to learn his trade after doing the odd jobs necessary to keep twelve men working. Not only is it an injustice to the apprentice, but to the young men who are growing up. More than one young man to every twelve journeymen will desire to learn the trade, but will not $2. be able to through the enforcement of this liberty destroying rule.

The objection raised to this statement will be, that if we had not some agreement apprentices than there was any need of and thus shut out some journeymen who needed work. The exterior of the building is festooned and flagged in a most elaborate manner, flags of all nations hanging from the windows, and bands of bunting bespangling the walls. Commander-in-Chief Palmer arrived here this morning. There was a large crowd present at the depot, who greeted him when he arrived with applause. He was at once driven to the executive headquarters.

Although the program arranged for the gathering had no date on it earlier than today, the encampment was in visible presence yesterday. It was Old Soldiers' Day in the churches, while the streets re-sounded constantly with the tread of hosts seeking from their arriving stations their various places of entertainment. Comrades in large numbers, already in quarters, sought the religious services, which, in many cases, were arranged apropos to the occasion. Ex-chaplains oc-

Quincy people who patronize the Old Colony Railroad, are fortunate in having such a man as Officer Connolly to look after their safety. His rescue of a woman from a horrible death on Saturday, at the risk of his own life, entitles him to special recognition. This is not the first time either that he has risked his life to save others. He certainly deserves a medal.

mony on the Cambridge Disaster. Boston, Sept. 20 .- A further hearing on the recent Fitchburg railroad accident at West Cambridge was held yesterday in the rooms of the railroad commissioners. Edward F. Pratt, the engineer of the freight train 221, which followed the Erie fast freight that caused the wreck, was the first witness examined. He testified that he did not see either the distant or home signal at West Cambridge. His train was running fifteen miles an hour, and the Erie freight was rated to run twenty miles an hour. The first signal he Greenwich returned a verdict sustaining saw was at the Boston and Albany crossing. Woman's Relief Corps Entertained.

Twenty members of Paul Revere Woman's Corps visited Medford on Thursday, Sept. 15, as the guests of Mrs. John P. Prichard; a delightful day was passed. In the afternoon a ride was taken and the principal points of interest were visited. The village is beautifully situated. The streets are attractive, that on which stands the Unitarian and Episcopal churches being shaded and one of the handsomest in the country. They visited the house on Governor Matthew Craddock's plantation erected in 1638; it is supposed to be the oldest building in the state. They rode to the top of College Hill, on which is located Tufts College, consisting of eight or ten handsome buildings, occupying grounds of about twelve acres in extent, and visited the museum in one of the college buildings. The old powder house, pumping station and reservoir, were a few of the other places of interest visited. On the return to Mrs. Prichard's a bountiful collation are anxious to subserve the interests of their country, and believe that such interests can was served. In the evening all attended the meeting of S. C. Lawrence W. R. To this end indicure the common object. To this ent that yidual preferences and personal opinions must give way to the judgment of the party councils. The party platform, in all its essential particulars, must be deemed to be the infallible party guide, and the party's candidates our candidates and are entitled to our fealty. There is no place in honorable American politics for the political guerillas who do not attach themselves to either of the great not attach themserves to enter of the great political armies, but who, while swearing allegiance to neither, criticize them both and fight first upon one side and then upon the other. I am not assuming to offer suggestions of duty to this class of people, but I am speakng tonight as a Democrat to Democrats who best be subserved by the Success of the Democratic Cause.

True Position of the Party. It denies the constitutional power of the gov ernment to impose taxes for other than public purposes. I am aware that a concerted effort is being made by our opponents to make it ap-pear that a new departure has been entered upon and that our party had abandoned its 1876, upon which Samuel J. Tilden was elected president, and having once been ratified by a majority of the people, it is believed that it majority of the people, it is believed that it will be satisfactory to them now.

I realize the difficulty of presenting the question of the constitutionality of a protective tariff law to the courts, and in that view it may have been unnecessary or not desirable to have challenged its legality. We need not have placed our objection upon that ground while so many fatal objections existed to the system itself, but that course was a mere matter of discretion. The fact remains mere matter of discretion. The fact remains that we have always insisted and now insist Senator Hill said:

The Speech.

I am reminded of the fact that it was in this edifice upon a memorable occasion in 1855 that I had the honor of expressing to the intrepid Democracy of King's county the sentiment. "I am a Democracy of a Democracy of the specific of the specific of the specific or the imposition of tariff dustries, but whether such a tariff is constitutional or not, or whether it is practicable to have the question properly raised or decided, the system itself is vicious in the extreme, unjust to the people and contrary to the spirit of our face people and contrary to treme, unjust to the people and contrary to the spirit of our free institutions. There is not an elementary law writer anywhere whose treatise on the constitution is regarded as standard authority, who ventures to affirm the onal right of congress to levy duties for any other direct purpose than revenue for the support of the government.

This is a dangerous exercise of authority. It furnishes a hazardous precedent which will surely return to plague us. If the government, under the pretense of raising revenue, can impose prohibitory duties and thereby protect domestic industries from competition, then, under the same pretense, it can by taxation essentially usurp most of the functions of the state governments and virtually regulate mar-riage and divorce, the rate of interest on money, the purchase of property, the formation energy description.

Stevenson Talks to Tarheels.

I have read with care all the arguments urged by the two very able abostles of protection, Governor McKinley and Senator Aldrich, but I fail to discover that they present a single tenable ground upon which protection, pure and simple, can be constitutionally defended. Incidental protection is unobjectionable. Tariffs should be imposed for the largest that had ever greeted him. for the express purpose of revenue and not for any private purpose. In so far as the tariff is necessary to meet the necessities of the seen. government, it may be imposed, and any other benefit which may be legitimately derived from its imposition may and does necessarily is a safe, logical, conservative and just position. With the constantly increasing expenses cessarily be exacted to meet these expenditures will be for many years to come insufficient to afford, incidentally, all the protection which the most ardent advocate of the system can reasonably ask. In the imposition of necessary tariffs there should be exercised a wise discrimination in the amounts exacted and the articles taxed. What should be placed upon the free list and what should be the most heavily burdened, are questions not free from difficulty, and require the most careful consideration.

The Mills bill of 1888 and the separate tariff bills passed by the present Democratic house indicate in a general way the Democratic position. They show that the necessaries of life should be substantially free; that luxuries should bear the heaviest burdens; that there should be free raw materials for the benefit of manufacturers; that the tariff upon manufactured articles should, as a general rule, be larger where similar articles are manufac-tured in this country than where they are not; that the tariff upon all manufactured articles—other than those for good reasons placed on the free list—should equal the dif-ference between the rate of wages paid in this and foreign countries so far as labor enters into the cost of their production.

President Harrison, in his letter of acceptance, calls attention to the fact that while our platform in 1884, readopted in 1888, contained an express plank upon this question of the equalization of wages, yet it was omitted in 1892, and asserts that we have changed our position. I beg to differ with him. There was no necessity for the repetition of that plank, in conclusion: With this motto inscribed upon our banner, "Public office is a public trust," supplemented by the other sentiments, "No public taxation for private purposes," and "No force bill," let us close up our ranks and buckle on our armor for the fight, with the determination to do all in our power for the triumph of our party and lection of our honored standard bearers,

At the close of the speech the audience rose en masse and cheered again and again. Speeches were also made by Congressman Breckenridge of Kentucky and Lieutenant Governor Sheehan. The meeting adopted suitable resolutions.

A Democratic Prediction.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 20.-John Dewitt Warner opened the campaign by an address in this city. He gave it as his opinion that if the election was to take place today Cleveland would carry New York with a majority of 40,000, and that there existed no reason why this condition should suffer any material change on Nov. 8. According of five, silent and constrained amid so to him, the outlook in the northwestern states is very bright for the Democratic party, and esnecially Indiana Michigan.

The country has been prosperous not be cause of the McKinley law, but in spite of it. The campaign of education has borne its fruits. This policy of protection cannot much longer stand against the tremendous pressure of public sentiment for its abandonment. In the election of 1890 the McKinley bill was one of the important issues involved and it was emphatically repudiated by the people.

The senator then discussed the "force bill" issue at length. He said that it was bill" issue at length. I do not so regard it. Some of us might have preferred a little different phraseology, but, as a whole, it sufficiently expresses our position with remarkable clearness and accuracy. In every essential particular this plank was emerged. The senator then discussed the "force bill" issue at length. He said that it was equal to, if not greater than, the tariff is sue in importance. It is surprising, too, how much enthusiasm can be kindled in the breasts of your friends when you are going abroad. In fact, you never can tell the measure of your own popularity until an occasion of this kind, when they combine to give you a "sendoff," often going so far as to hire a tug and an "Eyetalian" band of music to accompany the party going abroad as far down the bay as the chartered steamer can keep pace with the Cunard, White Star, Guion or Inman liner, or, what is more to the point, when the "sendoff" party reach a few of the white caps and the inrolling swell from the lower bay. THE MARCH OF DEATH-THINNED RANKS.

Scenes at the Grand Army's Twenty-

Sixth Annual Encampment.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. - The twentysixth annual convention of the Grand Army of the Republic was called to order

Following is

Commander-in-Chief Palmer's Address: Comrades—The national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic brings together representative soldiers from all over the loyal land. There is scarcely a battlefield of that great civil contest but has its representatives here today. Within the ranks are men of all political parties and religious creeds. The difference in the rank which the army reflected are lost in the equalities of a free and common citizenship. The dominat-ing thought is patriotism. Its principles appeal to patriots of every name and party. It is peculiarly befitting that we should meet once more in the beautiful capital city of the nation, where the representatives of 65,000,000 freeman gather to enact our laws, and to look backward over the perils surmounted, and forward to the growing greatness of a redeemed land survive us, and upon our last resting places may flourish the evergreens of a sound and enduring memory.

Department Visits.

During my official term I have visited twenty-five departments, responded to numerous invitations to reunions and public gatherings, requiring months of time and labor, when the state of the said my only the said my only t velling nearly 40,000 miles, and my only r ret is that I was unable to meet with several departments. And notwithstand ing I have given up nearly the entire year to the work of the order, I feel that my efforts have been but feeble to serve all my comrades and do justice to the great office.

During my visit to the department encamp ment in Augusta I met many ex-Confederate soldiers, from whom I received a cordial greet-ing, and I believe that those who were bravest In the field have a greater love of justice and right than those who remained in the rear in the hour of danger, and I was glad to take by the hand any Confederate soldier who accepted the generous terms of the surrender at Army of the Republic was called to order at noon today in Albaugh's Opera house. Appomattox, and today respects the flag of the nation as the emblem of a reunited people and a reunited country.

All Honor to Heroes.

An invitation has been extended to the world to visit the Columbian exposition, and the thought comes to me that the dazzling conquests of the heroes of ancient times show no such fruitage as the discovery of a new world. no such fruitage as the discovery of a new world by a Genoese sailor. He brought no plunder from the treasure houses of the east, but he found for the people of all nationalities the citadel of liberty, and as I look into the grandest pages of our country's history, I feel impressed with the fact that without the heroic services of these men and their comrades in arms, that chich Columbus made possible would long ago have perished from the face of the earth; and today I utter the inthe face of the earth; and today I utter the in-spiring truth, that the Union soldier made it possible to present to the nations of the earth the glories of America under one flag, and in saving this great Republic they saved for all mankind the priceless jewel of liberty.

THE VICE PRESIDENT'S STAND.

Rightly it is named the Grand Army; grand in the justice of the majestic cause for which it fought; grand in the greatness of its magnanimity and its chivalry; grand in the valor and fortitude and the heroism which shone all through its career of defeat and victory; grand in the fidelity with which the citlzens' obligations were blended with the soldiers' memories. It still sustains the principles it carried to victory. Grand because it saved tha capital of the nation, kept the country undivided, the flag unsullied and assured us a commanding place among the retions of the

These annual gatherings of men who rendered toyat, devoted and patriotic service to their country in the hour of peril, if they serve no other purpose, will impress upon the minds of the rising generation a profounder and deeper sense of the perils through which we passed to preserve the unity of the nation. It demonstrates to all the obligations resting otism, tends to elevate and adorn our national character and makes us stronger each suc-ceeding year. We meet with no desire to boast of our services in the past. We cherish no feelings of animosity or revenge against the men of the south. I know I speak the senti-ments of every true soldier when I say whatever pride we have in the past, whatever pride we brought back from the battlefields, we joy-fully laid it aside upon one altar and gladly merged the title of soldier into a greater one-that of American citizen.

An Appropriate Gathering.

It is peculiarly appropriate that the survivors of the Union armies should gather again in the capital of the nation, which through four long years of bloody strife they defended at the peril of their lives; and it brings to our minds vividly the name of that great man who, under the providence of God, successfully guided the affairs of the nation through the crisis of its fate. While the peans of victory were still sounding in his ears he died, a mar-If their spirits hover about us today they must be filled with gladness, and could they but speak they would say "'tis well we died, the nation still lives, we'll sleep again; it will not be long before you will join us; and we shall all meet on the resurrection morn, to be judged by him who ruleth armies and Precents of the Order.

The precepts of this great order appeal to the patriotism of every man who wore the Union blue; every Union soldier should give

Army button. This emblem is a silent protest against "sneers" at the old veteran; it is the honor mark of the Republic.

As we look back over the long line of distinguished comrades whose patriotic devotion to their country and inspiring presence upon the battlefields oftentimes stimulated us to deads of years, but who no longer appears to to their country and inspiring presence upon the battlefields oftentimes stimulated us to deeds of valor, but who no longer answer to "rollcall" in our encampments, we are forcibly reminded that death has been busy in our ranks; but the memory of their heroic achievements and manly virtues will live long after the Grand Army ceases to exist. Let the example of their lives be an incentive to us all as to so live and discharge our duties as citizens with that loyalty to country and fidelity to duty, so that when we shall have reached the end of life's journey and joined those gallant comrades whose lives were sacrificed to their country's liberty, future generations will read with wonder how two great armies contended for four long years, where nearly a million of men on one side and the other yielded up their lives in the great civil conflict, and when the contest and the great civil conflict, and when the contest and the great civil conflict, and when the contest and the great civil conflict, and when the contest and the great civil conflict, and when the contest and accomplishments. the Borden Case.

LIZZIE'S RIGHTS OF INHERITANCE.

She Consulted a Providence Lawyer in Regard to the Matter.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 21.—The Globe publishes an array of facts bearing on the Borden case, of which the following is a summary: The state is ready to prove that six months before the murders, Lizzie Borden went to Providence by way of New Bedford and there consulted with a lawyer as to the possible disposition of her father's property in the event of his death, and affecting her.

This man is one of the best-known lawyers in Rhode Island, and has held several political offices. He obtained all of the information she could give him about a suppositious case and he then asked her where she lived. When she said Fall River, he told her he would not be able to give her an answer at once, but if she would call again later he would have looked up Massachusetts law and would be able to advise her.

Two weeks before the murder she again went to Providence via New Bedford and received all the information the lawyer could give her. Then she went to several stores in Providence and made purchases directing that they be shipped to her

The police are in possession of the shipping tag, showing that Miss Borden was in Providence on the day indicated. When the story of the murders was published the lawyer recalled his client of two weeks

A man who saw Miss Borden sitting in the lawyer's waiting room gave the in-formation of her wanderings to the police and every effort was made to see if the professional man would not come to this city and identify the girl. On the last day of the preliminary hearing he was in the listrict court room and stood face to face with the prisoner. Recognition was mutual and the lawyer determined then to go on the witness stand and testify to the interviews when the proper time arrived. These facts are construed to mean that the state has discovered another link in bolstering up their conception of a motive

THE OLD, OLD STORY.

Man Kills His Wife with a Gun NEW HAVEN, Sept. 20 .- Mrs. Edward L. greatness of the cause for which they offered up their lives.

If there is anything that softens the heart and itensifies patriotism, it is to stand at the graves of the silent sleepers, 16,000 patriotic dead, it recalls to our minds the enormous price paid by the American people for the preservation of the nation. Four thousand graves are marked with the saddest of all inscriptions—unknown. We meet today with the consolation that the nation was saved and preserved by the valor of these men, and we feel exalted by their achievements and regenerated by their life's blood. If their spirits hover about us today they must the life's blood. If their spirits hover about us today they must the life's please of the cause for which they offered up their lives. If there is anything that softens the heart and itensifies patriotism, it is to stand at the graves of the men who sacrificed their lives for their country. The American people honor the dead Union soldier, not because he slew so many of the foe, but because he gave up even life itself in the performance of a duty. So long as the observance of the day is kept in all its genuineness and purity, not given up to frivolity and amusement, it will impart to all a truer sense of the obligations resting upon us—reaping what the living and dead have sown we now enjoy the priceless blessings of the cause for which they offered up their lives.

WHY DOES the City Conneil want the water mains extended in December rather than now? The money has been appropriated and can be spent after Dec. 1, if not before. The Mayor has done his utmost to meet the demands for water and why should the City Council, because it bungled in passing the order, now act as bstructionists? What was to be gained n rejecting the order which proposed to Twenty-five years interest must be paid whether the date is one time or the other. Were the extensions now in more connecthe case if the extensions are made in December. Then again, the money will not go so far if frost gets into the ground.

NOTES FROM THE DESK.

The correspondent, who through the columns of the Herald remarked that no bread winner could possibly take a place in society, has little common sense. Where would this scurillious snob be if it were not for the bread winners of this country? If none except "society swells" should enter society, then nobody but bread winners should eat bread. It is to be pitied that this fact cannot be demonstrated on

GROCERS INDIGNANT.

They Threaten to Sue Secretary Kelly fo False Accusations.

A rumor Tuesday, says the grocers are waxing warm over a certain part of the open letter of John N. Kelley, secretary of the executive committee of the Granite Cutter's Union, which was published in the LEDGER of September 15.

The particular part referred to is this: "A movement was set on foot a short time ago among the manufacturers and grocers to whip the men into line by refus-ing to give them any further credit."

The grocers deny emphatically the assertion and say it accuses them of conspiracy. It is said by those in position to know that unless that statement is retracted a suit for damages may follow.

A prominent grocer when asked this morning about the trouble said: When our association was formed, one of the force about the time the present trouble determined look on his face. took place but it was deferred at that time as it would have looked as though the grocers had combined with the manufacconsequence some of them have contracted in twenty-eight seconds. large bills. This new phase coming as it does just when the prospects for an early settlement looked the brightest, is very bad as many of the union men are not at all pleased with the result of the recent conference, and should the grocers commence suit against Mr. Kelley, the chances are that the settlement of the granite trouble would be prolonged.

There were a number of slight accidents to the old veterans during the day, but none proved fatal.

Night Was Even More Glorious than the day. Shortly after dark, which was of a most favorable density, owing to the lowering clouds, the multitudinous thousands who lined the avenue while the parade was in progress repaired, so far as ossible, to the vicinity of the monument. Here an elaborate display of fireworks was made. It was a magnificent show. Succeeding the fireworks display there was an electric illumination, on a scale never before attempted in this ountry. Pennsylvania avenue, from the Capitol to Seventeenth street, was ablaze with colored lights. The feature of the illumination was the display along both sides of the avenue of brilliant presentaons of corps badges. Seventy of these had been placed on supports at convenient distances, in three colors, red, white and blue, the respective colors of the first, second and third divisions. Each was outlined incandescent lights of the same colors as the badge. There was also Providence, Sept. 21.—Wilfred Lawson placed at short intervals portraits in oil of Central Falls, who shot his wife while of the leading generals of the war. Many Hotels and Other Buildings Destroyed by Fire-Two Lives Lost. ROCKAWAY BEACH, N. Y., Sept. 21 .- The most disastrous conflagration that has ever visited this seaside resort was finally nastered last evening, after several hours of hard fighting. The local fire department was badly hampered in its efforts by the lack of water. The area burned over is from thirty to fifty acres, and where, formerly, there was a long line of hotels, bathing houses, carousals, etc., is now a mass of smouldering ruins.

It was not until after reinforcements from the fire department of Long Island City, Ozone Park, Wood Haven and Morris Park had arrived that any headway was made. The following is a correct list of the buildings destroyed: Kings-land's Casino, Meissner's Hotel, Collins' Hotel, Murray & Dalz' Hotel, Sam Myer' Hotel and iron pier, Simpson's Hotel, David Filee's Hotel, Shuber's Globe Hotel, Garrison's bakery, St. James Hotel, George Burchell's grocery, Linwall's Hotel, Weiskoff's Hotel and Morrison's Hotel.

The only loss of life is Mrs. Phillips, the wife of the proprietor of the Seaside Museum, and her 6-year-old daughter. This was the building in which the fire originated, and so suddenly did the flames spread that before the woman could escape, all exits were cut off. The woman appeared at a window for a moment, while the wilds of upper New Hampshire. Leavthe flames surrounded her on all sides. Firemen shouted for her to jump, but she refused and fell back into the flames.

Several of the firemen were injured more r less seriously. The loss is estimated all the way from $500,000 to $1,000,000,but conservative estimates place the sum at the first named amount.

cents per member produces an income of but $8000, the adjutant general says that the tax is platfully insufficient and should be at least 3 cents per member per annum. He says that semi-annual returns Its absolute and, by the nature of the Indian and his lack of knowledge of drugs and poisons, compulsory freedom from all mineral ingredients or drugs in any form, makes it the ideal tonic and blood-purifier that cannot possibly leave behind the after effects so common to many extensively advertised nostrums on the market.

In the says that semi-annual returns from posts and departments are unnecessary and that annual reports will suffice. He also calls the present inspection system unsatisfactory and cumbersome, and thinks that the installing officer of a post could also act as its inspector. A revision of the present rules and regulations is also recommended. The number of new thorse > sentatives at large and apportioned according to membership Dec. 31 last. The adjutant general devotes a page of his report to a history of the events at-tending the refusal of the officers of the department of Louisiana and Mississippi to recognize as entitled to membership nine colored posts duly organized and endar year, as shown by the report, there was a gain of 229 in the number of posts, making the total number 7568. During the calendar year there was a gain in membership of 64,401; but the losses were 66,109, leaving the number of members in good standing Dec. 31 last, 407,781, an apparent loss of 1708. This loss is said to be apparent, because in one department it was found that nearly 3000 had been added without authority, and the returns previational feet of Indiana had made ously made were incorrect, so that there was actually a gain of about 1200 in the total strength of the organization. During the year the deaths numbered 6404; honorably discharged, 1829; transfers, 9460; suspensions, 34,367; dishonorable discharges, 467; and delinquents, 13,582.

Important Decisions. J. O'Neill of Lebanon, judge advocate general, in his annual report, gives a sum-mary of all the decisions rendered by him during the year. He says that he believes himself bound to give a strict construction of the rules and regulations relating to qualifications to membership in the Grand Army, but that he was very loth to reach a conclusion that Dr. Jones, "who had been appointed and served as an acting a sistant surgeon in the United States navy, and who, by reason of sickness, became disabled while in a line of duty, and whose appointment was thereupon revoked," was not entitled to membership in the Grand Army; but that after a carelul examination of the law he became satisfied that such persons are not considered navy officers, and have no rank, precedence or grade. They are simply citizens employed under a special contract, and are not enlisted.

Major Howe post No. 47, department of Massachusetts, voted to attend the na-tional encampment at Detroit in 1881, and seventy-four members did attend. When they returned, they found that twenty-eight comrades had met in their absence. The judge advocate holds this meeting void, rules that by vote of the post it was at Detroit, and that this action suspended regular meetings.

In a Georgia case it is ruled that representatives to department encampments Berve during the year commencing on the first day of January following their election in December.

Phil Sheridan post No. 4, department of Idaho, asked approval of a bylaw provid-ing for an associate membership. The judge advocate ruled that this is but another name for honorary membership, and alized from the capita tax was $33,051, and from the sale of supplies $22,147. The Death Roll.

The Death Roll.

B. F. Stevenson, surgeon general of the Grand Army, in his report, complains that many posts failed to make any sanitary and mortuary returns, so that statistics on these matters are very incomplete. Blanks were sent to the several departments, but the only once to return reports, embracing the period from January to June, were Arizona, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and the Potomac. The department of Massachusetts report shows: Number of deaths, 238; presumably from wounds cantracted in service, 4; presumably from diseases contracted in service, 51; presumably from other causes, 71; cause of death not reported, 112. Uncle Sams Contributions The report says that, according to Commissioner Raum, at the close of the fiscal year June 30, 1892, there were 876,078 pensioners on the rolls, and that the appropriation aggregated $139,132,387. In addition to these vast expenditures the are also 173 government cemeteries, kept appropriations, says the report, seem large, "but," it adds, "they should be

lutely beyond monetary consideration."

Sympathy for the President. The telegram from President Harrison, present, was read and was applauded. Junior Vice Commander-in-Chief Clark-rules, submitted the following:

Resolved, By the members of the twentysixth national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, and through it of 500,600 of its members, that their most sincere and heartfelt sympathy are hereby extended to and we earnestly hope and pray that his noble wife, that true American woman, may be

Mr. Clarkson moved the adoption of the resolution by a rising vote, and the instruction of the commander-in-chief to communicate the sentiments of the encampment to Comrade Benjamin Harri-Ex-President Hayes seconded the resolution. The encampment cheered him and applauded for several minutes. The

Other Meetings. Meetings of affiliated or auxiliary organizations and reunions, almost without number, were held throughout the city, and the day was a busy one for most of the veterans. The Union Veterans' union is the chief of those outside bodies, with a membership of 60,000, the Woman's Relief Corps coming next. Other organizations are the Prisoners of War association, Daughters of Veterans, Woman's Relief union, Army Chaplains, Ladies' Aid association, Sons of Veterans and Army Nurses, nearly all of which held meetings. The Union Veterans' union preceded their meeting with a parade. There were about 1200 in line, including posts from Massachusetts and Connecticut.

General S. S. Yoder, commander-in-chief, delivered his annual address to this, the seventh annual encampment of the Union Veterans' union. Resolutions of sympathy with President Harrison were adopted. The Sixteenth Maine regiment held a camp fire in St. Paul's Lutheran church.

A SEALED INDICTMENT EVERY STONE WORKER

Said to Have Been Returned Against Mr. Peck.

HE HAS DISAPPEARED FROM ALBANY.

His Counsel Characterizes the Move as a Game of Bulldozing.

ALBANY, Sept. 22.-When the Albany among the others and retired. It is given out on the best of authority that this indictment is found against Charles F. Peck, the commissioner of labor, and up by government appropriations. These | charges him with wilfully and maliciously destroying documents under the seal of the office of the commissioner of labor for public information. The indictment is found upon the evidence given the jury by the janitor of the building where Mr. Peck resides, and who testified that he was hired to burn up a lot of blanks, charred Number Firms. portions of which were put in evidence.

Mr. Peck is not to be found, and is supposed to be absent from the city with the advice of his council. The indictment will not be opened until he is brought into court under arrest by the officers of the district attorney's office.

Edward J. Meegan, who is counsel for Mr. Peck, said that he expected the indictment, as the prosecuting at torney was a hot-headed Cleveland man. Mr. Peck was expected in the city last night, and had telgraphed his office that he would be here, but at the last moment

Was Warned Not to Come until measures could be taken to meet the indictment. Mr. Meegan alleges that the idea is to get Mr. Peck in jail so that the governor will have a chance to remov him before the coming election In an interview, he said: "It is a gam of bulldozing that they are playing and an exceedingly bold move. What they intend to make by it I cannot conceive. They must certainly be defeated in the end. All we can do now is to appear in court and then await trial."

"What do you think, Mr. Meegan, as to the point made by some that in case an indictment is found against Mr. Peck, it will disqualify him from office?"

Defended by Maine's Commissioner. AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 22.—Commissioner stand in support of the position of Commi sioner Peck of New York. Mr. Peck wrote to Mr. Matthews to ascertain wha his practice was, and in reply he wrot that he found it necessary to maintain secrecy in many cases, and it would be impossible to obtain statistics without it He cites one of his blanks sent out to th workingwomen of the state, in which appears the following:

In case there should be any apprehension of the part of those receiving this form that are swering any of the questions in the blank ma be prejudicial to their personal or business interests, the commissioner desires it to be distinctly understood that the bureau will preserve the strictest confidence with all supplying information, and no names of persons, except by express permission, will appear in the report, or be otherwise given to the pub-

Mr. Matthews says: "We cannot su essfully obtain information without the efeat the work of the bureau. All the bureaus in the country conduct their op erations on this plan, and we claim that any other course would be a breach of confidence which would destroy not only the usefulness, but the entire work of the bureaus. Therefore the bureaus stand by Mr. Peck."

School children. The New Building

Is an ornament to the architecture of the city, although not an expensive one. The appropriation by the City Council was $30,000, and such a favorable contract was made that there was a surplus for furnishing, and there is still a balance. It is an eight-room building of brick with granite trimmings, situated on the south side of Brooks avenue, in Ward Three, so that all the rooms have a southern exposure and sun throughout the day. The dimensions of the structure are 48x129, and there are two stories with four school rooms each. Two rooms on each floor are 25x36 feet, and two 25x33 feet. There are four entrances to the building all of which are on the north or street side.

As both floors are cut up exactly alike, a description of one only is necessary.

A large hall runs nearly the whole length of the building leading into a school room and cloak room at each end. From the hall there are two entrances to each of party, as above stated, the agreement in force the two other rooms. A REFUGE FOR THE SICK.

Active Steps Toward Establishing National Home for Odd Fellows. PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 23 .- One of the most important things done by the soversigh grand lodge of Odd Fellows was the indefinite postponement of consideration of a resolution declaring it to be the sense the lodge that a person otherwise qualified who is engaged in the sale of intoxicating liquors is not of "such good moral character," as contemplated by section 2, article 16 of the constitution, and is there-fore not eligible to membership of a subordinate lodge. There was a lively debate over a proposed amendment to the constitution reducing the minimun age of admission to the order from 21 to 18 years of age. It, too, was defeated. By instruction of the grand lodge and the grand encampment of Arkansas the grand representatives of that state to the sovereign grand lodge will present a memorial to that body in behalf of the building of an Odd Fellows' national sanitarium and home at Hot Springs for sick and afflicted Odd Fellows and members of their families of the whole order. The home is not intended to be an asylum for aged and infirm, but a refuge for the sick where they will be cared for at actual cost. The general plan of the operation will be to raise funds by vote, subscription, donation, bequests and transfers in trust and loans from different branches of the order, assessments and methods of like charac ter; to loan all moneys so obtained until the accumulation of principal and interest of such fund shall be sufficient, and thereupon when such funds shall become adequate for the purpose to build, equip, stock, manage, control and maintain a permanent sanitarium for those entitled to support therein. The proposed home meets with the approval of Past Grand Sire Busbee and Grand Secretary Ross. A charter was granted by the secretary of state of Arkansas on April 22, 1892.

A Compromise Campaign Flag.

A humorous political episode is reported from Dover, Me., where reside a couple, the male half of whom is Re publican and his companion Democratic. A young son of four or five summers, whose patriotic sentiments had been warmed into life by the sight of the campaign flags floating above the streets, greatly desired to have one of his own and made his wishes known to his Republican parent. The father promised to furnish the bunting if his mother would make the flag. This being arranged, the question arose as to which name it should bear. The father said "Harrison" and the mother said "Cleve-

Each side was firm, and fearing that he might lose his flag the youngster ingeniously suggested that he should label his banner "Congregationalist." This was agreed to, and the young patriot has his flag in air. You see the incident would not be so very funny, but for the fact that both father and mother are Universalists .- Lewiston (Me.) MAINE BANK SUSPENDS.

Depositors Not Likely to Lose Much it They Will Show a Little Patience. RICHMOND, Me., Sept. 24.—The Richmond savings bank has suspended, such action being made necessary by the heavy with-drawal of deposits. The lunk officials say there will be no great loss to depositors With a little patience on their part the bank will come out of the present difficulty solvent. Owing to the depreciation in value of its assets the bank passed its July dividen l, causing a great run upon the bank, in consequence of which payment was stopped. A hearing is to be had on the affairs of the corporation. The bank showed a surplus of $8000 over lia bilities last October.

It is not understood that suspension resulted from any fault of the officials of the bank. The trustees are William T Hall, James R. Cunningham, Thomas C. Maxwell, D. C. Ames. Hiram Smith and J. L. Lake. J. N. Ordiorne is the cashier are not closed, no money is being paid or The deposits aggregate $142,000, and the trustees deemed it wiser to suspend pay ments than to sacrifice the securities the expense of the depositors. And Maintains That the Force Bill is of Greater Importance.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24 .- One of the greatest gatherings that has ever greeted a public man in this city thronged the Academy of Music last night to hear Governor William McKinley speak upon "the pending issues of the campaign." Fully 5000 people were present, and hundreds were unable to gain admission. Governor FARMERS ARE HOLDING BACK McKinley was the guest of the Manufac turers' club, and was escorted to the stage by Thomas Dolan, president of the club and a score or more of members of the club. As Governor McKinley entered, the audience arose and cheered veciferously Mr. Dolan introduced Governor McKintion as he came to the front of the stage. Governor McKinley's speech was mainly upon the tariff, which he designated as the great issue of the campaign. Again lections are retarded. But the general the storm of applause rolled through the and again he was compelled to stop while building. Every mention of Presiden Harrison's name created the greatest en thusiasm. In the midst of the speech a local club came upon the stage bearing a banner of tin plate, with the arms of Penn sylvania painted upon it and this inscrip tion: "American tin plate, made at Mo ristown, Pa., 1892." Governor McKinley said: "There is another trophy of protec tion," and the audience cheered itself hoarse. Governor McKinley said he favored a sound currency, and that free trade and debased money went hand in hand The governor argued that a protective tariff was constitutional, and que ures to prove the beneficial effects of tariff on the industries of the country. He praised Harrison's administration. Postmaster General Wanamaker also cise at 7 P. M.

Henry A. Pierce.

Henry Augustus Pierce of South Braintree, died on Sunday evening, Sept. 18th, at the family residence after an illness Oil, Tapestry and China extending to almost a year. Death was occasioned by some internal trouble, which assumed an aggravated form in the fall of last year, occasioned by a blow he received from the shaft of a wagon, while employed trimming the trees on the principal streets of the town, by the authority of the Board of Selectmen; the consequence was he was disabled for work, obliged to take to his bed, and was never able to be out of the house again up to the time of his demise, nothwithstanding everything that could be, was done for him by an Applications for Instructions in these attached family and skilful physicians.

Mr. Pierce was born on Liberty street in MRS. MOORE, Box 321, Quincy, Mass. the house now occupied by David Strathdee, and was the son of Dexter L. and Maria J. (Vinton) Pierce. Mr. Pierce was a man that could turn his hand to almost any description of work, but his principal employment was that of a boot-treer. In 1850 he went to California, then GIRLS WANTED at once to fill good places of all kinds. Wake up! Apply twenty years of age; carried away as most people were with the gold fever, then raging. He returned, then went back 58 Hancock Street again, stayed awhile and then went to Australia, then to South America and came back to Braintree fully freighted with a wide and varied experience, if not with gold, although he was fortunate in not being wholly without a certain amount of the precious metal. In 1861 Dec. 14th, he married Eliza J. Wildman of Quincy, who survives him together with three sons and one daughter, the issue of the marriage. THE FREQUENCY with which incendiary fires have occurred of late, calls for prompt action on the part of city government to prevent their continuance. Five of the last six have probably been incendiary. The ringing of false alarms should also be investigated particularly the one of Sunday norning from Box 43.

CHIEF RIPLEY has been criticised in some quarters because he sent the Steamer and Hose 1 to Braintree, Saturday night. The criticism is the more adverse because of the fire here during the absence of the apparatus, and it may be a fact that incendiaries take advantage of such occasions. There is no question, we believe, but our city should respond to all call, for aid in the adjoining towns, but provisions should be made to protect the city at such times. It would be the same if the apparatus was at Houghs Neck, or Squantum, or any of the outlying wards, when a fire roke out in the Centre. A mistake was made in not giving the out-of-town call for the Atlantic Chemical did not come to the Centre. What is needed, we believe, is a relief hose at the Central fire station, and this Chief Ripley has in view when the new station is ready. We have another suggestion, which is this. When two boxes are pulled for different fires at about the same time, or the econd one previous to the recall from the first, that all apparatus not responding to the first shall respond to the second. Saturday night the Braintree call and the two Quincy boxes were pulled about the same time, yet Hose 2 at Wollaston and the chemical at Atlantic did not leave their

Chairman Crane's Address. MR. MAYOR: As a representative of the chool Committee, I gladly take charge of the building which you have just turned over to us for school purposes. Anyone who is familiar with the overcrowding of our schools during the last few years, par ticularly in the Adams and Hancock build ings, where seats have been set up in al sorts of conceivable places, can perhaps understand the feeling of relief that comes to us now that we have these eight fine rooms ready to receive the children. In our day these are the two great problems with which we have to ready to go on. The orchestra was be- his seat on the supreme bench when the grapple. The gospel of fresh air is preached on every side, and we all feel that when a messenger boy handed him a court resumes its session Oct. 10 next. while a good education is indeed a great thing, good health is a greater. Happily in this building the sanitary arrangements are of the most approved pattern and everything has been done to preserve the health of the scholars.

Again I say, Mr. Mayor, that the Schoo Board gladly take charge of this school and as their representative I now dedicate this building to the service of free public education and may truth and freedom be taught within its walls forever.

In turning the keys of this building to you, Mr. Reed, as the first principal of the Lincoln School, I do so without the least eeling of doubt or hesitancy. A Quincy oy, brought up in the Quincy school, you surely know how to carry out Quincy ideas. I trust that you and your corps of teachers will make the Lincoln school so attractive to the scholars that we shall hear no more of the "whining schoolboy, creeping like a snail, unwillingly to school," but rather of the cheerful scholar who each day eagerly dashes to the school, "swifter than arrow from the Tartar's bow."

Mr. William A. Reed, the principal of the school received the keys and said:

"Mr. Chairman in receiving these keys I realize the responsibility that goes with them, and I feel honored in being appointed to a position of such trust. At this time I can only pledge to you the earnest and united efforts of the teachers of the Lincoln school to carry out the plans of the school officers, and will endeavor to send these children out into the world to make useful and patriotic citizen who appreciate the privilege of living in such an era and under a government which furnishes such facilities for acquiring an education, citizens with sensitive consciences, clear notions of right, and a love for justice and truth.

Mayor Fairbanks again stepped forward and presented to the Lincoln school a beautiful flag with these words:

"MR. REED: In behalf of one who has deep interest in all that pertains to the welfare of our city, I have the pleasure of entrusting to your care this emblem of liberty, the flag of our country.

As the symbol of free thought and equal rights, it is indeed fitting that it should wave over this free educational institution, and may there come from the 'Stars and Stripes' a true object lesson teaching loy-alty and faithfulness to our country, obedience to its laws, and respect and rever-ence for those who guarded it with their Important events in the life of Columbus and in the history of America will be represented. Many symbolical floats will also be introduced. Designs for four of these floats are particularly worthy of notice. They will cost thousands of dollars, and are calculated to eclipse anything heretofore seen in this sort of pageantry.

The first is a tableau of Columbus before the court of Ferdinand and Isabella. The monarchs sit on their gilded throne under the rich canopy, both attired a becomes the rulers of Leon and Castile. Herewith are given illustrations showing the genhis recent nomination from William M. eral scope of two of these interesting designs.

The School Review.

One of the most striking suggestion for the local observances of Columbus Day is that in every town and city in the land the schools parade after the morning exercises of the celebration. While this is not specifically included in the official programme prepared for the day, it is strongly urged by the committee of educators who have had the uniform celebration in charge. If there is a general parade of the civic and military organizations a "public school review" should be its It is announced that the marriage of most honored feature. As the reviewing wife and endeavoring to prove her guilty stand is reached each part of the column waving of handkerchiefs and caps.

The various patriotic organization might fittingly be invited both to the morning exercises and to serve, in addi tion to the veterans, as escorts in the review. The beauty of the review would be heightened if each school carried both the national flag and a distinctive banner of its own. The review also might be made impressive by symbolic floats; models of the "old red school house" and of the ship of Columbus are among the appropriate subjects. This leature, however, should not be attempted unless it can be effectively done. In all cases, let it be said, the fantastic should be rigorously barred from the procession.

The Newsboy's Lindress.

The words of Shakespeare, "One touch of nature makes the whole world kin," were never more forcibly illustrated than in the case of the paralyzed newsboy who sits in a wheel chair on the corner of Fifth avenue and Twentythird street. He first made his appearance there about two years ago, and his wan, pinched face plainly indicated that he had long been an invalid.

The newsboys all sympathize with him. They help him fold and arrange his papers. On warm days they take turns fanning him, carry his little folding table and assist him in various One day during the late hot spell a ragged urchin with a bundle of papers under his arm, barefooted and dirt begrimed and carrying a tin pail in his hand, walked up to the cashier's window in a store not far from where the cripple sits. Rapping on the window he attracted the attention of the cashier, and as he stood on his tiptoes he handed in his pail, while a smile as bewitching as any society belle is capable of encircled his dirty face, displaying a set of teeth pearly white and as beautiful as nature could form them. His large, lustrous, sparkling black eyes caught those of the cashier, and he said, "Say, mister, der lame bloke what sells papers in de wagon on der corner wants a drink of ice water.

As the man who handles the cash passed out the pail of water the juvenile remarked, "Tanks, mister; you know der kid's awful lame and can't walk." The New York newsboy is a rough slangy, harum scarum, devil-may-care and often mischievous individual, but generally his heart is in the right place. -New York Herald.

The Kickapoo Indians, who make Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, nature's grand tonic and blood purifier, and other Kickapoo remedies, are the oldest tribe extant. When Columbus discovered America they occupied the territory about where the state of Georgia is

Today, driven back step by step, they are found mestly in Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona, but their traditions have remained intact and the secret of compounding their remedies is known only to themselves and to one white man, adopted into the tribe, and through whom they became known to the Kickapoo Indian Sagwa is their principal remedy and and upon it they depend for the curing of all troubles of the stomach and liver, thereby purifying the blood. It is the king among their medicines and their prin-cipal reliance for warding off malarial in-fections and all troubles arising from exposure and frequent changes.

Its absolute and, by the nature of the Indian and his lack of knowledge of drugs and poisons, compulsory freedom from all mineral ingredients or drugs in any form, makes it the ideal tonic and blood-purifier that cannot possibly leave behind the after effects so common to many extensively advertised nostrums on the market.

Happiness Reigns Supreme.

It is hard to tell which are the happiest over the settlement of the granite trouble in this city, the manufacturers or the men, for both are as happy as can be. The manufacturers are hiring on their old men and setting them to work as fast as possible, and in a few days they will all be at work, although there is a class of inferior workmen who will have a hard time to get work. Monday there were scores of granite cutters in Quincy from other places seeking work at the sheds, but the old men will be given the preference.

Just who has won the victory in the present trouble is hard to tell, but both sides claim it. The best view of the trou ble heard, however, came from one of the stone cutters this morning, who said to the LEDGER: "It has been a drawn game, neither side having gained anything, 10 rooms, in excellent repair. A Bibliophile Indeed. A lady left some very precious first editions of a book in three volumes in a hansom while she went into a shop-a risky thing in itself to do. When she came out of the shop she couldn't find the hansom, which had been made to move on by a policeman, and in despair took another, and just saved the train which she had to catch at Charing Cross. After waiting for an hour and a half the cabman thought there was something queer going on and endeavored to find his fare, without success of course. Then he looked inside the cab, saw the books and some parcels, and conveyed them all to Scotland Yard. And here comes the pith of the story The lady applied the following day for her precious books and got them. It was suggested that she should pay a certain quite adequate sum as recompense to the cabman. But the lady was indignant. That sum, she averred, did not in any degree represent the percentage due on the enormous value of the tomes. They were worth something stupendous. She mentioned what Quaritch valued them at. And quite cheerfully she paid a sum that made a comfortable nest egg for the cabman. She | Venice. also made the Scotland Yard official understand something about books that sistent struggle of the Democracy, massacute-setts in November next will for the first time in her history hold an election in which every in her history hold an election in which every citizen will vote because by is a man, and not because he holds propert, pays a tax. We have at last, thank God, reached a point in political progress when the point and govern-ment of our beloved commonwealth are to be hereafter forever settled by manhood, and not be reall tayes; by personality and citizenship. by poll taxes; by personality and citizenship, and not by property. Having struggled for a generation for this result, you will appreciate, I know, the pleasure it gives me from this, my my last official position, to declare its accomplishment. sponsibility and our duty.

The Democratic party is not a mere personal following. It seeks the election of no man to public office for mere personal reasons or purpublic office for mere personal reasons or pur-poses, but solely that such election may put into administration principles which the wel-fare of the country and the greatest good of its people demand. Still less does it aim to promote selfish class or special interest. Its constituency is mainly the industrial masses, whose advancement and elevation it ever seeks, and whose counsels so largely shape its policy. Take the wage-earners out of the Democratic party, and how much of it would be left? And yet to to us today it is a subject of especial congratulation that through our party the education and the conservatism, the press and the industries of the country are coming, as never before, into close sympathy and touch with these masses, that together they may intelligently and justly settle those economic and industrial questions which are the problems of the present and the Greater Problems of the Future. And it is a matter of further especial congratulation that, while our party is thus devoted to principles and not men, we have as our candidates for president and vice prestdent men who so thoroughly and ably represent those principles—as Cleveland and Stevenson—both men whose ability, integrity and character commend them to our support, as well as their devotion to those Democratic principles to which they have shown so constant and intelligent an adherance; both men who, if they cannot secure the support, at east challenge the respect of their adversaries. Before I pass to national issues, it may be proper that I should turn for a moment to the recent convention in this hall, and especially to the speech of its distinguished president, who, voiced, I suppose, its sentiment. This speech I have read with interest and care, and I hope with candor. It is a courteous, dignified, emperate address, beginning with a mild deprecation on the weather as causing political apathy, and ending with an admirable, and I suspect somewhat needed, injunction to his associates, to "make this campaign in Massa-chusetts a battle of principle, and with such an effort as shall not only place Massachu-setts firmly in the Republican column, but shall roll up a majority for Harrison and Reid so large that when the table of results is published the name of Massachusetts shall lead all the rest." I assure the honorable president that this is precisely the battle the Democracy is ready and anxious to give. Possibly it would give effect and interest to such a con-

Contest of Joint Public Discussion. The president, with a real -to retion a wise forecast, seeing the evident purpose ings, instead of leaving them to the tender mercies of "bureaus of paid canvassers who have no influence" and less character. And he forcibly and truly says, in what 1 nay appropriately call a kodak picture of his party's present senatorial campaign, that there is a remedy for the complaint of poor nominations. You all know how such things "A few shrewd men, accustomed to control such matters, have at their bidding a set of men whom they can always rely upon to atmits their charges, and his earnest effort to relieve his party from them.

More than ninety years ago Thomas Jefferon laid down the Democratic platform in what he deemed "the essential principles of our government, and, consequently, those which ought to shape its administration." Although this platform is as Familiar to Democratic Ears as it is dear to Democratic hearts. I must deay you a moment to repeat it:

"Equal and exact justice to all men, of what ever state or persuasion, religious or political; peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations—entangling alliances with none; the support of the state governments in all their rights, as the most competent administrators of our domestic concerns and the surest bulwarks against anti-republican tendencies; the preservation of the general government in its whole constitutional vigor, as the sheet anchor of our peace at home and safety abroad; a jealous care of the right of election by the people-a mild and safe corrective of force, the vital principle and immediate parent of despotism; a well disciplined militia our best reliance in peace and for the first moments of war, till regulars may relieve them; the supremacy of the civil over the military authority; economy in the public expense, that labor may be lightly burdened; the honest payments of our debts and sacred preservation of the public faith: encourage ment of agriculture, and of commerce as its handmaid; the diffusion of information and the arraignment of all abuses at the bar of public reason; freedom of religion; freedom of the press; freedom of person under the protection of the habeas corpus, and trial by juries impartially selected-these principle

To this platform of the liberal Virginian, that purest and best of Christian patriots, Samuel Adams, gave his instant and earnest adherence in language which I think you will be glad to

Whether the modern Republicans sha follow in the footsteps of their illustrious pre-decessors can be better determined when Grover Cleveland is inaugurated as president and the people restored to their rights. Recognizing as its primary duty adheren to these Democratic principles of Jefferson the Chicago convention proceeded to lay down a platform, every line and sentiment of which is in entire harmony with them.

It is not an unnatural inquiry whether the fundamental principles of free, popular gov-ernment are not sustained by all parties. In some general and limited sense they are; but in ours, as in all free, intelligent countries there has been and ever will be two great parties dividing on Distinct Lines of Political Sentiment. Both recognize the popular power, but the one believes in it with its whole heart and adopts it as a fundamental principle. The other with more or less doubt and fear, accepts it as a necessity, not to be implicitly trusted, but restricted as far as practicable by conserva-tism and restraint. It deems the rule of classes safer and better than that of the masses. In its distrust of popular government it forever hedges it around with checks and obstructions. It accepts rather than believes in Dem cratic government, and I need not explain t you the difference between a man with a be lief, and one with only an opinion or an acceptance. This difference instantly develops itself in action, and especially in political parties; and never more energetically than in a true democracy, which ever regards the ceaseless struggles of the many, rather than

It is unfortunately true that the action of parties is not always consistent with their avowed principles. Parties, political or religous, are subject to infirmity, weakness and times infirm, weak and inconsistent. Not unthe politicians of his party to put so important and transcendent a matter as the selection of United States senator into the primary meetings and ward caucuses, instead of the legislatings and ward caucuses, instead of the legislatings where the constitution has placed it, and doption in administration of the views and asserts the position of the other, and so gains a temporary superiority, not due to its real principles, but to its adoption in administration of the views and asserts the position of the other, and so gains a temporary superiority, not due to its real principles, but to its adoption in administration of the views and asserts the position of the other, and so gains a temporary superiority and the other and so gains a temporary superiority and the other and the ture, where the constitution has placed it, and where the best sentiment of Massachusetts, without exception, has hitherto held it should be freely made, naturally and ably exhorts his associates personally to attend these meet tion, parliamentary reform, the extended turns and purposes of its opponent. The Re-publicans admitted that the excessive war to yield their Democracy to personal interests and other Democrats to compromise their tariff within these limits demanded revisi Democracy through fear of civil war and love and their sole claim was that it should be reof the constitutional union of the federa vised by its friends and not by its enemies.

government. This position the Republican party held and maintained till its grand specific purpose was accomplished. When, however, through the terrible ordeal of civil war and severe co stitutional tension, slavery was abolished, and the authority of the federal government reestablished, the Republicans abandoned all democratic principles and policy when they attempted, in the interest of party supremacy, to control the restored states by "carpet-bay governments," originated by adventurers and speculators and sustained by federal power exerted through fraudulent agents and ignorant and corrupt voters—an abandonmen onspicuously consummated when, through these same corrupt instrumentalities, it pre upon the office to which his fellow citizen had elected him.

This abandonment became complete when he Republican party, its fundamental and emocratic purpose well accomplished, took up as its platform those antique and bourbon principles, in support of which both the Federal and Whig parties had died. At this stage it was only natural that its great founders and eaders and their descendants should leave it and go over to the Democracy, now assum True Historic and Normal Position It is just at this stage that we encounter th epublicans of today with our Democratic atform, and our Democratic candidates. mpassioned sensationalism develop. In discussing very briefly these suppos points, I naturally turn to the recent letter of Mr. Maine to Mr. Manley. The writer of a bill. Change to arr. Manney. It with a sagacity only equalled by that which forced the disinfectant of reciprocity into the McKinley bill, entirely drops two most important issues. The one is the forebill, and the other, President Harrison, upo neither of which has he one word to say. The president himself, however, brings t latter of these issues to the forefront in the long and wearisome defense of his administr tion in his letter of acceptance. soreign nations, against which Washington warned us in his farewell address, and this upon matters of revenue and trade, in which above all others, national legislation ought to and must be, independent. This objection, to far as it exists, is nowhere better stated than by Washington in this same address, in a passage too long for me to cite.

But reciprocity is as limited as a political issue as it is in trade. At best it is nothing but a homocopathic pellet of tariff reform, administered in an emergency to a public suffering under the gripings and distress of oppressive tariff exaction.

The only remaining point of the attack

Mr. Blaine upon the Democratic platform is in one of its details in regard to the currency.
With all his minuteness of scrutiny and readiness to criticise, I do not understand Mr. Blaint to claim that there is any doubt as to the position of the national Democratic platform, or of its distinguished and tried candidate, Mr Cleveland, upon the subject of silver coinage The platform is quite too plain, and the action and views of Mr. Cleveland quite too conspicuous before the country to allow this for s

Accordingly, Mr. Blaine, with characteristic shrewdness, puts his only objection to the financial part of the Democratic platform upon its recommendation to repeal the pro hibitory 10 per cent. tax upon

State Bank Issues.

Upon this he goes into argumentative hyster cs-breaking out in a most extraordinary and extravagant denunciation of the old state extravagant denunciation of the old state banks, and an equally extraordinary and exbanks, and an equally extraordinary the Retravagant eulogium of the currency the Republicans made during and since the war. He when he entered the high councils of his does not, and he could not, pretend that the country? How much above a stripling was Democratic platform makes the slightest at Wendell Phillips when his eloquence in the tack or criticism upon the national banks, or cause of humanity gave him the ear of the upon the national currency, except so far as it world? He limits his attack on the Democtratic plat form solely to its recommendation to repeal the prohibitory tax upon state bank circulation. He makes the extraordinary statement that, prior to the war, "the state banks, with some exceptions, were thoroughly irresponsible." He must have forgotton that these same "thoroughly irresponsible" banks after see and advice and giving them a position see and advice and giving them a position. the war began, and in its direct crisis, furnished to the government 100,000,000 of gold dollars, and only suspended specie payments when further exhaustive claims were imminent.

He must have further forgotten that when the national banking act was passed, its provis ions were drawn mainly from the state banking acts—notably from those of New York and Massachusetts—and that when this act went into operation these same "thoroughly irre-sponsible" state banks merely transformed themselves, as it was intended they should into national institutions, with substantially the same capital and the same stockholders of which excellent institutions they now con-Mr. Blaine descants with brilliant and sen

Rally round the upon state bank circulation the Democrats in-tend to restore a system of "thoroughly irre-sponsible banks" and "wildcat curreney" through dishonest state legislation; and, with his consummate and characteristic adroitness he seeks to substitute this issue for that of silver coinage, upon which the Democratic platform is so strong, and the Republican so as a fraud, a robbery of the great majority of state bank currency, good or bad, can be made legal tender. And yet his argument is, if not his assertion that, upon the repeal of this 16 day, when I ask the Democrats if they can per cent. tax, every state will at once charter "thoroughly irresponsible" banks and flood the country with unlimited "wild-cat' sir," because I know their strong faith and therefore the national currency and substitute for it this miserable stuff.

Such a suggestion is an insult to every state in the Union and a greater insult to the intelligence and character of the constituen of such states, and the bugaboo that is at-tempted to be got up over this resolution is about the most contemptible of the many scares by which the extreme protectionist have for years sought to divert the attentio of the people from their efforts to seize the government and run it in their interests.

And more than this, the attempted scare is

"An Obsolete Idea."

Now let us for a moment look at the real in-tent and purpose of this recommendation of the Democratic platform. Without stopping to consider whether, as Mr. Blaine tells us, many will say the national bank curren many will say the mathematical transfer was worth the cost of the war," let us look at its exact position today. The Republicans have at last succeeded in establishing the general proposition that it is within the power of congress to issue legal tender notes without The effect of such an issue can easily be esti-platform, is there a Republican convention in the country that dares openly and distinctly to insert its opposite, as I have stated it, as a plank in its platform? And yet, it is exactly the doctrine of the extreme protectionists where it now is. But the Republicans im-mediately commenced its wholesale depreciation. They began with a law compelling the coinage of two million of depreciated silver dollars monthly. They followed this deprethe doctrine of the extreme protectionists who, at the advent of General Harrison to the presidency, got possession of the Republican party, and are now controlling and running it in their special interests.

Mr. Blaine, and still more, the extremists, claim for this doctrine the support of Jefferson. Why, the very suggestion would make his patriot bones at Monticello only be used by coinage into depreciated dollars. The loss through the fall in the market value of the silver already purchased is $17,ter, Clay, Chase, Lincoln, Seward, Sumner or Wilson.

Value of the silver already purchased is $11,000,000; and the great menace to the public and business today is not the apprehension of state "wild cat" currency, but of the danger has accomplished; it has brought our opponents in their opposition to it, much more definitely mands the repeal; and it is seconded in that demand by the great mass of the conservative business interests of the country, as by some banner in letters of glowing light: "No tax-ation of the people except to meet the wants and necessities of the government, honestly at least, of the leading Republican new spapers, notably the Boston Daily Adver-tiser. So earnest has this demand become that even the distinguished author of the act, Mr. Sherman, has proposed a bill for such repeal. In addition to this, the national bank currency, which has been as high as $352,394,346, has already been reduced to only $179,755,643, and is still in process of contraction. Upon the extinction of the public debt and the withdrawal of its basis under present enactments it must cease to exist.

In this emergency, the Democrats—confiding in the people, and believing that the state The second point of attack which Mr. Blaine finds in his evidently microscopic scanning of the Democratic platform is its failure to approve of and appreciate the thin coating of limited free trade with which he forced the Republican party to cover the otherwise, to him, bitter pill of the McKinley act. He says: "When the principle of reciprocal stitutions, life and property insurance companies, have recommended that they be al-

Massachusetts Democratic Committee Issues a Challenge to Republicans. Boston, Sept. 28.—The first aggressive

step of the Democracy of Massachusetts in this campaign was made last evening by the issuing of the following letter:

To the Republican State Committee, Eben S.
Draper, Esq., chairman; A.C. Ratshesky,
Esq., Secretary.

Esq., Secretary.

GENTLEMEN—After consultation with Governor Russell, and by his authority, we respectfully invite your committee, on behalf of the Democratic state committee, to unite with the Democratic state committee, to unite with us in arranging a joint discussion between Lieutenant Governor Haile, the Republican candidate for governor, and Governor Russell, the Democratic candidate.

The public issues that have arisen between the two candidates through their official acts in the state administration seem to us to renthe two candidates through their order in the state administration seem to us to render it peculiarly expropriate and desirable that such a debate should take place. While state questions would naturally arise in a discussion of this sort, we wish to be understood as offering, without limitation, a general debate upon any issues, state or national, per tinent to this campaign. To this end we suggest that the subject be framed in the following language:

"Should the Republican or the Democratic candidate for governor be elected?"

We are willing either to confine such a discussion to some esting or to extend it over several, as you may think best; we are also willing, if you so desire it, to confine the discussion to some specific issue, to be agreed upon between us, involved in the campaign.

In case of your acceptance of this invitation, we shall be glad to arrange, subject only to the official engagements of his excallency the governor, an the defans of time, prace, etc., to meet your views and the convenience of his honor the lieutenant governor.

We are authorized at the same time to extend to you alike invitation to arrange force.

Two con siderations had weight with the court in adopting this course.

First, the construction of that act is of immediate practical importance in view of the approaching elections, and there is a general desire that those questions should be authoritatively determined at an early date, and if the court should hold that it has no jurisdiction of these cases, there might be some impropriety in proceed ing to discuss and determine minor ques tions involved; second, if the views taken go a man calling himself Dr. Henry C. of these questions shall lead to the conclusion that it is not shown that any one has a majority of all the votes legally

TELEPHONE, 213-3 QUINCY.

IT WILL not do for the city to congratulate itself that it has now ample school accommodations. Reference to the report of the School Committee meeting in this issue shows that the new Lincoln school at South Quincy is already filled, the number far exceeding the expectation. The average per room is over fifty scholars, and any more would be considered a crowd. The new district would appear to be among the most populous of the city, only the Willard and the Coddington having more pupils, and the latter only nine more.

Quincy has a very large and rapidly increasing school population, and it looks as though it would be compelled to build a new eight-room schoolhouse at least every other year, if not every year. There is now a pressing need for a new high schoolhouse which even the Woodward Institute for Quincy born girls will not relieve, and the School Committee has voted to petition the City Council for such a building. It cannot be questioned but it is urgently needed and it should be completed next September.

Can it be expected under such circumstances that the city debt will be small? Over sixty per cent. of the debt paid this year was for schools, while the running expenses of the schools take over forty per cent, of the city's appropriations. Here is a summary of the school buildings, school rooms and scholars of the city:

It is a little amusing to hear the argument raised at the School Committee meeting that a more central location might be found in Ward Four than the Willard shown them by Mr. Lee Square. Dr. Sheahan said he was not afraid to have it discussed, he had simply made the motion to save a lengthy discussion. The chairman ruled that until the motion had been passed, discussion was in Tariff Plank Endorsed. We heartily endorse the tariff plank of the national Democratic platform. Tariff taxa-tion should be levied for public purposes only. We demand for the true development of our great industries that raw materials shall be admitted free of duty, and we particularly emphasize the necessity of free wool, coal, iron, lumber and drugs, dyes and chemicals used in our manufacturing enterprises. The necessity of raising a large revenue through gard for the welfare of the wage earner is a sufficient answer to the attempts of the Republican party to arouse baseless fears as to the practical consequences of a return to sound principles of taxation. The recent legislation and present position of the Republican party upon the great problem of the tariff are utterly inconsistent with the promises of reduction in duties made by that party in the asymptotic problem. I invite also our political opponents to again give the attention which they did last year. I should rejoice to meet their worthy candidate before the people of this commonwealth in a discussion of the issues with which he has been so prominently identified, and with other issues with which he is thoroughly familiar.

duties made by that party in the campaign of Force Bill and Civil Service. While it may suit the temporary exigencies of Republican party politics to keep the force bill in the background, we believe with Senator Hoar, that support of this measure constiadministered the civil service law in accordance, either with the letter or with the spirit. We believe that the public office is a public trust, and we urge the extension of the civil

We congratulate our Democratic representatives in congress upon their valuable services of the cause of sound money. of the cause of sound money.

The circulating note features of the national banking system have, by common admission, become inoperative, and we now have in our financial system no banking expedients for the issues and withdrawl of credit notes ac-cording to the necessities of trade. We advocate the removal of the national tax upon such circulating notes of state banks as are so built their nests in the pipes.

secured that their prompt redemption in lawful money will always be certain.

Municipal Government. Believing in a government of the people and in the local control of local affairs, we insist that each municipality shall have the entire control of its own concerns without the interference of state officials.

The executive council was established at a time when the provincial governors were appointed by the British crown with a view of lic discussion. We commend the efforts of Governor Russell to inaugurate useful and necessary reforms in state administration and legislation.

He has, through his messages to the legislature and his wise use of the veto power, sought to uphold the rights of local self-government, and to prevent special legislation in the interest of the few, and at the expense of the people. He has ably resisted the invasion of our rights by a neighboring state, which, without due process of law, attempted an arrest within our borders. He has upheld the dignity and honor of the commonwealth on all occasions, and has eminently deserved the continued confidence principles, we confidently appeal to the intelligent judgment of the people.

When the platform was read Mr. Donovan moved its adoption, and it was so voted.

The convention adopted a vote of thanks to the officers of the convention and then

The delegates rose to his excellency and gave him rounds of cheers.

Governor Russell said that he had not anticipated the pleasure of coming to this convention until within a brief time. He was happy to be able to meet again the sturdy Democrats of the state. He took their enthusiasm and welcome to him as an evidence of their loyalty to those Democratic principles which they were going to carry forward to victory. This is set to keep time by the seventy-fifth meridian and is regulated by the standard clock before mentioned.

It is in all respects, similar to the other its predessors, and in comparison with which the present administration, now fortunately drawing to a close, suffers materially. We look forward with confident hope to a decision of the people in November which will again place Grover Cleveland in the presidency and will elevate Adlai E. Stevenson to the vice resolutive council. Said the governor:

French Woodchopper Found Dead in Shanty in the Town of Bath.

WOODSVILLE, N. H., Sept. 28 .- The dead body of Lewis Gotchia, aged about 66 years, a Frenchman and a woodchopper, was found last night in a lonely house on Mt. Gardner, in the town of Bath, about two miles from here. There was a hole in the body just below the heart, evidently doors to the shanty were bolted on the inside, and a gun was found in the room. Gotchia was seen in the village Monday when he was somewhat under the influence of liquor. The county solicitor has the case in his charge. No motive can be assigned for the murder, as the dead man was not known to have any money. No arrests have been made, but a thorough investigation will be at once instituted.

SUNK IN BOSTON BAY.

Steamer Henry M. Whitney Run Down by the Ottoman.

SHE STEAMER WATERTOWN DESTROYED.

Fire Breaks Out on Her Trip from Boston to Lynn.

BOSTON, Sept. 29.-Sunk in mid-channel. That is the fate of the fastest and best steamer of the Metropolitan line, the Henry M. Whitney

She swung free from her dock at 6:10 last night, and steamed down the harbor, bound for New York. Five minutes later the weight and the speed, and the Whitney went down almost immediately. Her stern and a portion of her port side remained above water. That explains why

For some unaccountable reason, the Ottoman disregarded the Whitney's repeated signals to pass on the port side. It vas this that brought the ships together.

The Aggressor in the Collision was under moderate steam, and the Whitney had reversed her engines before the shock came. But for that the Ottoman would have cut the smaller boat in two and large loss of life would have been inevitable. It is a story of grave mis-understanding or unaccountable negli-

The Ottoman, just freed from quaran-ine, met the Whitney in mid-channel just off Bird's island flats. Captain Hallett of the Whitney gave the first signal, blowing his whistle twice. That meant that the ships would keep to

The Ottoman replied with one whistle instead of two, and showed her red light. That meant that she was not complying with Captain Hallett's signal.

He blew twice repeatedly, and reversed his engines in view of possible collision. Then, he says, the Ottoman displayed a green light. That was all right, and, though the Warren liner was bearing lowing directly upon them, the Whitney's men expected her to swing off according As they were almost in the shadow of her great hull they saw her red light and realized that she was going to starboard. COMFORTERS The Whitney was backing, but it was too late. The Ottoman was upon them. Then Came the Awful Crash

pletely Destroyed by Fire. Boston, Sept 29.—Steamer Watertown, hich has been plying between Boston and Lynn this season, caught fire on her in-ward trip and was run ashore just after sing Shirley gut. The boat cost $50,-000, and was built only two years ago. None of the passengers were seriously njured, but Mrs. Mary Frances Carter, 38 years of age, wife of the steward of the steamer, who was on the trip for pleasure, recieved injuries from which she died. Her husband, H. A. Carter, was burned about the face and neck, but not seriously.

the tug Ida M. Dolby. The steamer Watertown, Captain Alley n command, left Commercial wharf yesperday at 12:20 o'clock, twenty minutes later than her advertised time of starting. She carried a miscellaneous cargo, comprising kegs of white lead, several barrels of kerosene oil, bundles of leather, a large quantity of fresh meats, a few barrels of salt pork, boxes and bales of merchandise of various descriptions, and other and lighter articles. Not a single piece of the cargo was saved.

As she was passing through Shirley gut smoke and flames were seen to be issuing from her sides amidships, and immediate the alarm of fire was given. A hasty examination convinced Captain Alley and Mate Clancey that the best thing to do was to head the steamer for Shirley Point, which was at once acted on, and she was run aground on Handkerchief shoals, some fifty or seventy-five yards from the

In an instant the flames seemed to leap completely over the centre of the hurri-cane deck, the wind fanning the fire toward the aft. An attempt to work the fire apparatus of the Watertown was fruitless, as the hose had at the first been burned in the near centre. Just what caused the fire is at present a mystery. Not a soul who was aboard the steamer could give the slightest hint as to what started the sudden blaze, which burned with unabated fury till the very Largest Dry Goods Store in Quincy. hat it is agreed, however, that it came from below decks somewhere in the vicinty of the boilers, but further than this no one can say.

band. An intermission was taken for dinner, which was served complimentary o every person who attended. Senator Chandler, who was invited to speak, was not able to be present, but sent a communication which contained an enalysis of the character and versatile talents of the distinguished patriot in whose honor the memorial has been raised. The occasion is a general holiday for the entire town, whose citizens made every efort to show a generous hospitality to the public and to demonstrate their high respect for the conspicuous statesman who leeps in the little rural cemetery adjoining the lot which the town has presented to the state for the location of the monument The memorial stands upon an ce overlooking the Merrimack as it winds its way through a picturesque val-ley and the hills rising beyond.

MAVERICK BANK TROUBLES.

Many Suits May Yet Be Brought Against Delinquent Stockholders.

Boston, Sept. 29.—Asa P. Potter, late president of the bankrupt Maverick bank, will be involved in another network of litigation should Receiver Beal find it necessary to bring suits against the stockholders of the bank who fail to pay the assessment made upon them to meet the claims of creditors. The judgments obtained in such suits would not represent much money, but the receiver would be able to offer them for sale in closing up the affairs of the bank, and might get enough to cover the cost of the legal pro-ceedings. No doubt is felt that the assessment will be promptly paid by the stock-holders who were not in Mr. Potter's combination, and this will bring in about $200,000 on the $400,000 of stock. It is not a very important item in the settlement of the affairs of the bank, as $200,000 represents little more than a 3 per cent. dividend on the $6,500,000 of claims proved. No report in regard to this assessment as yet been received by the comptroller of the currency, but some reference to the subject is expected when the quarterly report of Receiver Beal reaches the department early next month.

A LOSS OF $300,000

By the Burning of a Woollen Mill and Other Property at Warren, Mass. WARREN, Mass., Sept. 29.—The woollen nill of Sayles & Jenks was wholly burned yesterday afternoon. The fire was liscovered about 12:55 p. m. An alarm was rung in, but the town apparatus consists only of a hand engine and a hook and ladder truck, which were of no use in such a blaze, and assistance was asked from West Brookfield and Palmer.

BARRE, Vt., Sept. 29.—The action of the ranite dealers in passing resolutions to eserve places for cutters employed here when the strike began is praised on every hand, and it is thought that it will aid in estoring the good feeling existing before he strike. Cutters are arriving on every train, and the old men appear to have no rouble in finding places.

Travelling granite agents are already here, placing contracts, all promising a busy winter. The report that union men would not work in the sheds where nonunion cutters are employed, is without oundation, as many union men are now working with cutters who left the union. A report has been circulated that lealers in other places would put an inunction on local firms to prevent them from working until matters were settled everywhere. BY AMBULANCE AND SIGNAL.

Two Invaluable Branches of the Massachusetts Militia Show Their Efficiency. Boston, Sept. 29.—Yesterday was the fall field day of the Second brigade signal corps and of the ambulance corps of both the First and Second brigades, the common being the scene of operations. A complete field hospital was set up on the parade grounds, and with this and the ambulance the medical corps under Lieu-tenants Standish and Clark demonstrated its efficiency in caring for the wounded.
The signal corps under Lieutenant Sprague were divided into squads and sent out to stations in the vicinity as

The bicycle squad was ordered to proceed to Parker hill and to the east armory.
The foot squad was also divided. The first division marched to the south armory; the second sought the roof of the Park building, in Park square. Those remaining on the field were directed by Sergeant Stev.

MILE IN 2:84, REGULATION TRACK.

Three-Year-Old Stallion Record Lowered a Quarter Second.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 29.-The world's record for the light harness horse, either trotting or pacing, was lowered yes terday afternoon, when Nancy Hanks trotted the mile in 2:04. The 10,000 people who saw it sat breathless for a momen after the little mare passed under the wire, and even Doble, always modest of speech declared when carried to the judges' stand on the shoulders of the crowd and called upon for a speech, that he was "hoarse, and Nancy Hanks went so fast it took my breath away."

It was about 4:30 o'clock when Starting Judge Walker announced that Nancy Hanks would go to beat her record of 2:07 Manchester; Hon. J. S. H. Frink, Green-land; Professor A. S. Hardy of Dartmouth Paul. The daughter of Happy Medium made over the regulation track at St. had been worked two miles in 2:06 and 2:25 respectively, earlier in the afternoon. The runner, Abe Lincoln, stood opposite the flag while Nancy was taken well up the stretch for the start. Coming like a whirlwind down the stretch Abe was at her Doble Nodded for the Word. The clip was a terrific one. She was at the eighth in 15 1-2s., and at the first quarter in 31s. The second, an up-hill quarter, was done in 31 3-4s., the half beng reached in 1:02 3-4. The excited crowd began to cheer, but, at a word of admonition from the judges, lapsed into silence. This was only broken by murmured "oh's" when the the third quarter was done in 1:29 3-4s. Even the judges were appalled at the wonderful burst of speed, and thought the mare was running away So fast did she come that no one could cell her gait. On she flew and into the stretch, never faltering. Doble, with his steady hand, and clucking gentle "whoas" to keep her steady, squared her away for the great flight home. Even her light hoof beats sounded loud to the silent crowd. As Doble gathered her for the final effort he touched her gently with the whip, gave two of those masterful lifts of his and the world's record, pace or trot, was lowered 11-4 seconds and the record for regulation track three seconds. uggestions to the Public Schools for the Celebration of the Anniversary. The official programme for the nacional school celebration of Columbus Day is now published. The first duty of each of our schools this fall, if it wishes to be in line with the other schools of America, is to begin preparations at once for its proper observance of Oct. 21, the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America. A few suggestions as to the first things to be done may be of some value.

Teachers, the superintendent and the school board should confer, that action may be harmonious and best results attained. The proposed celebration should be explained to each school at the earliest moment. It should be so presented as to awaken enthusiasm. Interesting topics relating to Columbus and the disvery should be suggested for special investigation. Such topics might be "The Map of the World Before the Discovery," "Important Inventions and Events in Europe Just Before the Discovery," "The Story of Columbus,"
"The Ships of Columbus," "What Columbus Expected to Find," "Geographical Growth of the United States," "Stories of South America," etc. The teacher should assign the address and the ode to those who can render them

Poisoned Oyster Stew Prepared

HUSBAND WANTED TO GET RID OF HER

According to the Testimony of Their Nine-Year-Old Son.

Boston, Sept. 30.-Michael McAndrew, charged with administering poison to his wife Anne, was before Judge Churchill in the Dorchester district court yesterday and his case was continued until Monday, Margaret Josephine Clark, daughter of Mr. Andrews, testified to the sickness of her mother and spoke of an instance when she had made beef tea and her mother and herself having partaken of it both were very sick.

"Another time," she said, "she made an oyster stew, but did not eat any of it, and, as it looked queer, she took it to Dr. Rogers for examination? Rogers foa examination.

The next witness called was Martin Mc-Andrew, who testified that on Sept. 6 he came into the house and his father told him that he had some trouble with his oldest sister (Mrs. Clark) and his mother. When questioned whether or not he knew of poison being in the house, he stated that a year ago this fall he had, at the request of his father, bought some rat poi-

The next witness, John McAndrew, while only 9 years of age, was the Most Important in the Case.

Tuesday, Sept. 6, he declared he stayed in the dining room, and while there he saw his father put some white substance in the bowl which contained the oyster stew. His two brothers were in the dining room while this happened, and he told them. He also saw his brother Martin taste the stew before his father meddled with it. Martin told him to watch his father, and J. hn saw him put the package back on the last shelf in the cupboard.

Thomas McAndrew, who was next called, said that he got in the house a few minutes after 12 o'clock. His father arose from the table and, owing to the defect in the door, he was enabled to see his father get up in the closet. He asked him what QUINCY. he was doing, but he received no absence. Startling Evidence Against Powell, the Suspected Somerville Murderer. Somerville, Mass., Sept. 30.—Richard Powell, sullen and defiant, charged with murder, made his second appearance yesterday before Judge Story.

John B. Goodrich appeared for Poweil, and Chief M. C. Parkhurst for the government. The prisoner pleaded not guilty when the charge was read, identifying him as the murderer of one George W. Brawn in Somerville, Dec. 22, 1889. The first witness examined was Dr. T. M. Durell, the medical examiner of the county. The doctor's testimony was mostly technical and to the effect that the body found was that of a negro, whose death resulted from violence. The next

Ex-Treasurer of a Massachusetts Town Has Misappropriated Funds.

HOLLISTON, Mass., Sept. 30.—For a month past E. L. Parker, professional accountant of Boston, assisted by the town auditor, has been at work on the books and accounts of J. M. Batchelder, treasurer of this town from 1879 to 1889. The result has just been made public, viz: That Mr. Batchelder had taken during his administration a sum, which, with interest men a large part of the shortage.
Since 1889, when suspicions of irregularity were first aroused, the authorities have been active in probing the matter. In that year the treasurer was found to hold in his hands double the amount of taxes which he had reported as holding in the previous town report. This he refunded, and but for his own action the matter would have been dropped there.

He, however, put in a claim for a portion of the money refunded and received it. Later, at a town meeting, a committee was appointed to investigate, and, as a result, the selectmen in 1892 were given power to put an accountant on the books. A town meeting is called for Saturday evening, when all the details will be made

After the vote by the city council, Mayor Hart refused to sign a warrant upon the treasurer upon the ground that the price asked was too great. The board of aldermen of 1890 repealed the order of the board of the previous year, and Mr. Brackett brought this suit to compel the city to carry out its contract with him. The court finds that the city council has not the power alone to make contracts of the kind in question, as the mayor is a part of the government, and his sanction is necessary to complete the agreement.

Concerning a Political Secret Which is CHICAGO, Sept. 30.-The Post prints a wo-column expose of an alleged scheme of the Republican national committee to send an emissary to England to "work" the English press in the interest of the Republican party during the remainder of the national campaign. According to The Post, the plan was devised at a con-ference of prominent Republicans of this city and approved by the Republican national committee, but the emissary selected, a representative of The Inter-Ocean, whose articles over the signature "Pat Grant," railroad laborer, have attracted considerable attention, was not considered by the national committee to be a man of sufficient diplomatic ability, and William E. Curtis, formerly private secretary to J. G. Blaine, was selected for the work. This, The Post says, so incensed Grant that he hastened to the Democratic leaders of this city and exposed the plot. He intimated that he had in his possession a letter from President Harrison approving the plot. He offered to verify his statements by documentary proofs for a consideration of $25,000. This amount was considered by the Democrats to be alto gether too high, and Grant, The Post alleges, has avowed his intention to go per-sonally to Mr. Cleveland and deal with him if the campaign committee declines to "do business with him."

Agreement at Westerly.

The Journal says, "the Westerly branch of the Granite Cutters' Union accepted the modified proposition of the manufacturers Thursday. The agreement has not yet been made public, but it is known that there will be no discrimination between union and non-union men under the new contract. The agreement is yet to be signed by committees of both associations and ratified by the New England Manufacturers' Association. There is a great feeling of relief in Westerly at the prospects of an early settlement."

Letters patent have been granted to Andrew Olson of this city for an alleged new and useful improvement in hoisting devices. It is particularly well adapted for quarrying purposes. The invention consists of a pair of stationary parallel cables, the ends of which are firmly secured to the wall on top of the quarry, one at a suitable elevation above the other. By a system of endless ropes, rollers and cables, a stone can be moved from any part of the quarry and raised or lowered. It is difficult to describe the patent without a plan or model, but it may be seen in operation on a small scale at the residence of Mr. Olson on Fletcher's field. It is strong and durable and is claimed to be cheaper for hoisting

A $1,000 Monument.

The Matthew-Thornton memorial monument at Merrimack, N. H., was dedicated with imposing ceremonies Thursday. The monument is of granite and cost $1,000. It is very plain in its design, but is of a solid and substantial character. It has three bases, the lower one six feet and five inches square, and the three having a thickness respectively of 20, 13 and 24 inches. The upper base has a moulded top. The shaft is three feet and two inches square at the bottom, two feet and ten inches at the top, and five feet and six inches high.

The shaft is surmounted by a moulded projecting cap with a pointed apex. The total height of the monument is 13 feet and 1 inch. Surrounding it is a space three feet wide, filled with flowering plants, lined with rounded granite edgestones, and a concrete walk outside, and also extending RIOTS in South Quincy. A BITTER LESSON.

Manufacturers and Cutters Acquire Considerable Respect for Each Other. The Granite City Leader of Barre of Tuesday says: This week finds the sheds running with all the men that can be had, as the manufacturers are anxious to make up some of the loss incurred by nearly five months of idleness. It has been a hard fight and about the only gain, so far as we can see, is that both the manufacture:s and the cutters have acquired considerable respect for the ability of the other to carry on a struggle. The Granite Cutters' Union is as strong as ever today and the New England Granite Manufacturers' Association consists of the same number of firms as it did on the first of May.

Although it has been a bitter lesson to both parties its ultimate effects will be for the good of the granite industry and for the business interests of Barre. There will be less haste in the future to hurry into contests, of a like nature and the arbitration The Epworth League of the West Quincy clause of the agreement, which is printed Methodist church held a Whittier night in full below, is a step in the right direction To be sure arbitration is not always a sure way out of disputes arising between labor and capital but it gives time for reason to take the place of impulse and thus facilitates an adjustment Both the National Granite Bank and the of difficulties. AFFAIRS AT HOMESTEAD.

Report That Carnegie Himself Will Take a Hand in Settling the Trouble.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 30.—A rumor is in cir culation in Homestead that the big plan of the Carnegie Steel company will shut down in all departments this week. The 23-inch armor plate mill was indefinitely closed down yesterday and the men paid off. The officials of the company refuse to talk about the matter and their evasive answers to questions make it appear that the report is true.

Four companies of the Sixteenth regiment now at Homestead have been ordered home, and will break camp today.

It is reported that Andrew Carnegie has written to several prominent men in Pittsburg, expressing a desire that the Homestead strike be settled as soon as ossible. It is also heard from good authority that Mr. Carnegie is on his way to this country, and that even now he may object the settlement of the difficulties with his workmen.

Mr. Frick positively refused to be innor anything of his coming home. They are not surprised to hear that he desired a

UNDERGROUND TRANSIT. Pneumatic System for Transmission of Mails to be Practically Tested. Washington, Sept. 30.—The committee appointed by the postmaster general to examine into the merits of the eight propositions submitted to the postoffice department for a more rapid dispatch of mails between large cities and the post office stands and transportation terminals in large cities by means of pneumatic tubes or other systems, has completed a preliminary report on the subject and presented it to the postmaster general. One proposition, the report says, is more fivorable to the department than any other, for the reason that no other proposal offers indefinite terms (and without obligation on the government's part to purchase or rent) to give a specific service of a practical character within the near future. The committee deem it proper to make this particular proposition the sub-

SAUL'S CONVERSION.

LESSON I, FOURTH QUARTER, INTER-NATIONAL SERIES, OCT. 2.

Text of the Lesson, Acts ix, 1-20-Memory Verses, 15-18-Golden Text, John tii, 3-Commentary by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The text of this lesson is so long, and the space al'otted me is so short, that I cannot quote the verses, and must there fore urge the reader to read the notes with the Bible open at the place.

1. This verse takes us to chapters vii, 58 viii, 1, 3, and also for Paul's own testimony as to his for mer life to chapters xxii, 3, 4; xxvi, 9-11; and Gal. i, 13, 14. He thought that Jesus of Nazareth was an impostor and a deceiver, and that he in this perse cution was doing right in the sight of the God of Israel

2. With letters of authority from the high priest he started for Damascus that he might arrest and bring as prisoners to Jerusalem any whom he might find worshiping Jesus. Observer in the margin and in the Revised Version of this verse that the religion of Jesus is spoken of as "The Way." See also chapters xxiv, 22, and xix, 9, 23, R. V. It is the same expression that Jesus used in John xiv, 6, "I am the way.

3. The Lord who rules in heaven and on earth allowed him to come near, but not into, Damascus with his murderous intentions. Not even the devil can go one step beyond God's permission (Dan. iv, 35 Job xxxviii. 11: i. 10). It was at midday that this light from heaven, brighter than the sun, shone upon him (xxvi, 13).

4. He fell to the earth, as did those Roman soldiers in Gethsemane (John xviii, b). Compare Isa. vi, 5; Dan. x, 7, 8, 9; Rev. , 17, and remember that these were holy men, but Saul was an unsaved man, and consider what you will do before such light. This voice was in the Hebrew tongue (xxvi, 14). When Saul touched a believer in Jesus he touched Jesus Himself, for all believers are members of His

5. What a revelation to Saul to hear from heaven the voice of the man whom he thought to have been a deceiver, to have been lawfully executed and to have gone to the place of the lost. So shall Israel be surprised some day when they shall see this same Jesus coming.

6. Jesus being alive and in heaven, Saul sees in a moment, by the enlightenment of the Holy Spirit, that he has been all wrong in his thoughts of Jesus; he at once acknowledges Him as Lord (I Cor. xii, 3) and meekly asks what he is to do. In a moment he has changed masters and has become the obedient servant of Jesus heard not the words, neither did they see Jesus. Compare chapter xxii, 9; John xii, A receiver has been appointed for the 28, 29; Dan. x, 7. That Saul saw Jesus is evident from verse 17 and I Cor. xv, 8. 8. What Jesus said to Saul as He commanded him to rise and stand upon his feet is fully stated in Paul's testimony be fore Agrippa in chapter xxvi, 16-18. The glory of the light from heaven so blinded Saul that he had to be led by the hand into the city. What a contrast between the humble, and for the present helpless, disciple and the recent proud blasphemer!

9. Three days blind and fasting, the world shut out, the body mortified, dying to self, God dealing with his soul. Some day he may tell us about those three days. It is the period of death preceding resurrection (Gen. xxii, 4; xlii, 17; Jonah ii, 17; Hos. vi, 2; John ii, 19; Rev. xi, 11). 10. One of God's chosen ones at Damas

(I Sam. iii, 4, 6, 8, 10; Isa. vi, 8 11. We have here some light upon the manner in which Saul passed his three days of blindness. He gave himself to prayer; it was a season of true penitence ARTIST MATERIALS. would be good for every Christian, for unless we are much alone with God we shall never be much used by God. As to Paul's

12. The Lord regarded Saul's prayers same Ananias coming to him and laying his hand upon him. As to other visions from God, for we have the completed word, and faith is more blessed at present than sight (John xx, 29). 13, 14. Saul and his doings seem to have well known even at Damasons, and been well known even at Damascus, and also his present mission and authority. It is probable also that the saints at Damascus had given themselves to prayer that God would save them from the power of Saul, and possibly they had prayed for his conversion, but like the saints at Jerusa

15. The Lord graciously bears with command to go, adding that Saul is a vessel of His choice to bear his name before the dedication of the fair buildings in Son in him. In Eph. i, 4 we read that the elect were chosen before the fordation of

16. Saul is not only chosen to bear the name of Jesus, but also to suffer for the sake of that name. The two are insepara-bly connected in this present age, for it is an evil age, and the whole world lieth in the wicked one (Gal. i, 4; I John, v 19, R. V). See also John xv, 18, 19; xvi 33 II Tim. ii, 12; iii, 12; but be encouraged by Rom. viii, 18.

17. Ananias is obedient, searches out Saul, calls him brother and in the name receive his sight and be filled with the Spirit. Natural sight is restored to him but he has now a new sight, a spiritual vision; old things are passed away, all things are become new. 18. The scales fall from his eyes, and at the command of Ananias he is baptized York and New England road, was thrown 16). His sins are all forgiven; he is now and confesses Jesus as Lord (Acts xxii, 14to be a witness unto all men of what he has seen and heard. This, too, is your glorious privilege if you are a believer in Christ. 19. He now receives food that his body may be strengthened and continues some days with the disciples at Damascus.

20. Being filled with the Spirit (verse 17) he goes even into the synagogues, and instead of talking against Jesus he fearlessly proclaims that He is the Son of God. The Jews are confounded and seek to kill him (verse 23), but God cares for His servant. He goes to Jerusalem and is tried by the coldness of the disciples toward him, but Barnabas proves a true son of consolation.
